DR. SAM'S CASE BACK IN COURT

Youthful Car Thief Faces Reformatory

Robert Featherston, 17, who led the deputy sheriffs and police in a wild chase before being overtaken and forced to surrender on the Columbus Road last Thursday about 2 A. M., was Wednesday morning sentenced to the state reformatory at Mansfield.

Sentence was passed by Judge R. L. Brubaker in juvenile court, after Featherston had previously pleaded guilty to stealing an automobile here and after the Boys

Industrial School officials at Lancaster had given their approval to the court action here. He will be taken to the reformatory within the next day or two and the officers said they will take no chance on his escaping while en route.

Featherston, who recently escaped from the Boys Industrial School where he was serving time for breaking and entering, was found parked on the Jeffersonville Road, but immediately dashed away in a car he had stolen in Eaton after he had abandoned one stolen here.

He was chased at top speed to Washington C. H., through the city and out the Columbus Road for eight miles before he was headed off by the police cruiser after traveling 100 miles an hour.

The car containing Deputy Sheriff Robert McArthur and Deputy Lawrence Mickle was immediately behind Featherston, so that when his car was forced to stop, Deputy McArthur immediately leaped out of his car and arrested him.

Three shots fired into the back of the fugitive's car failed to even slow down his wild dash.

Last September Featherston was arrested at his home at Parrett's Station, where he had hidden under the floor of the house.

Featherston had stolen 10 gallons of gas from a nearby farm house just before the deputies on patrol duty ran across him on the Jeffersonville Road, Thursday morning.

After escaping from the BIS he had stolen a pickup truck in Lancaster, came here, abandoned the truck and stole a car owned by Howard Griffith.

The Griffith car was abandoned in Eaton when the gas supply was exhausted and Featherston stole two other cars, one of which he was driving when apprehended near here.

He later admitted that he had burglarized a service station in Hamilton, Sheriff Orland Hays stated.

Polygamous Parents Defy Utah Officials

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Utah child welfare officials are returning to the courts in efforts to make a Short Creek couple either give up their children or sign affidavits saying they won't teach them to practice polygamy.

A party of welfare workers, led by Lamar Andrus, went into the isolated Utah-Arizona border town yesterday to take custody of the eight children of Leonard and Vera Black. They gave up the attempt when townspeople barred them.

Last night, Director John Farr Larson of the state's Bureau of Services for Children, said he was instructing Andrus, a child welfare consultant, to:

1. Secure complaints against the people who barred the way, charging them with "interfering with an officer in performance of duty."

2. Ask Cedar City juvenile court to start contempt proceedings against the Blacks.

Utah's attempt to take custody of the Black children started after Arizona raided the settlement in July 1953 and jailed several townspeople in efforts to stamp out the practice of plural marriage there. The Blacks live on the Utah side of Short Creek.

Many residents of the hamlet are "fundamentalists" who believe that plural marriage is the law of God. Though they insist this is the true doctrine of the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church, the church outlawed polygamy in 1890.

Houston Pier Burns

HOUSTON (AP)—The worst fire in the 40-year history of Port Houston burned a 1,080-foot pier and a 12,500-ton drydock yesterday and caused damage estimated at $3 million.

Buskirk Still In Hospital

Arraignment Friday May Be Postponed

Robert F. Buskirk's arraignment on charges of second degree manslaughter is scheduled for Friday morning, but the chances are he won't be able to get here for it. He is in a Navy hospital in Philadelphia.

Judge John Case, in whose common pleas court the arraignment is scheduled said that if Buskirk is unable to appear, arraignment will be rescheduled.

Buskirk's indictment by the grand jury Monday grew out of his permitting his 15-year old bride of one day to drive his car when, with Mrs. Buskirk reportedly at the wheel, the auto crashed into another driven by William H. Blough of Shelbyville, Tenn., killing Blough, Portia Estle, 7, and Millicent Estle, 3. The girls were in the Buskirk car.

The crash, on CCC Highway west of here, occurred last April 31. Mrs. Buskirk has since been sent to Girls Industrial School in Delaware.

Buskirk was seriously injured in the crash and is now in the U. S. Naval Hospital in Philadelphia. Prosecutor John Bath said Wednesday he doubted that Buskirk would be able to appear for the scheduled arraignment.

Bath added, however, "Naval authorities are aware of the situation. They will see that he's returned here as soon as he's able to make the trip."

Nationalist Bribe Linked To Crash Of India Airliner

LONDON (AP)—The Colonial Office announced today it had evidence Chinese Nationalists bribed a cleaner at the Hong Kong airport to time-bomb the Indian plane which crashed last year with a party of Chinese Communists bound for the Bandung conference.

A Colonial Office statement said the cleaner, Chow Tse Ming, stood away from Formosa five weeks after the crash. It said the Nationalist refused repeatedly to extradite him for trial on a charge of conspiracy to murder.

The Air India plane collected the Red party at Hong Kong April 11. It crashed in the South China Sea after an explosion while approaching Indonesia. Fifteen persons, including Chinese Red officials and Communist newsmen, were killed.

X-rays failed to disclose any fractured bones, but he had sustained severe bruises, some cuts and sprains.

Wednesday his condition was reported as good.

Woman On Dole Wins $32,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Mabel Morris, a 74-year-old London-born widow who receives support from the welfare department, came through about Charles Dickens last night and won $32,000 on a television quiz show.

She will get a chance to double her money next week, or she may elect to stop with $32,000. If she misses the next question she will get a Cadillac.

A schoolteacher for many years, Mrs. Morris now lives in a home for aged and infirm Hebrews. She has said she will use $7,000 of any winnings to repay the city for money it has spent on her.

FRIDAY THE 13TH

Washington C. H. merchants—33 of them—today were getting ready to put the jinx on that old bad luck superstition about Friday the 13th with some of the best special sales at special reduced prices they have offered in a long time.

What they are getting ready in their stores is going to make the people of this community start saying that Friday the 13th is a good luck day in Washington C. H.

These Friday the 13th special selling events are not exactly new in Washington C. H.; the merchants here have been hexing the Friday the 13th superstition so long the hex almost has come to be an institution.

And, since these Friday the 13th merchandising events have become a sort of custom, the merchants checked their calendars and started preparing for this one weeks ago. Some of them went out and bought merchandise especially for this event; others put the price tags on some of their stock through the wringer to make bargains that are bargains.

The hex on the Friday the 13th superstition is being applied by a wide variety of businesses in a wide variety of ways to give the people of this community some price cuts they will be talking about for a long time.

To fully appreciate what these merchants are doing for you, you will just have to go through today's Record-Herald page by page and their advertisements of:

American Missionaries Feared Seized in Jungle

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Planes combed the Amazon jungle today for five Protestant U. S. missionaries believed seized by savage Indians. Air Force reports of a body lying near their plane's stripped skeleton aroused fear for their lives.

A U. S. Army helicopter was dispatched from the Canal Zone today to take part with Air Force planes in the hunt for the men, missing in a remote jungle region of northeastern Ecuador.

The five men flew their small Piper Cub into the bush area last week to do mission work among primitive tribesmen. They were identified as Nat Saint, Huntingdon Valley, Pa., a Philadelphia suburb; Edward McCully, Milwaukee; Peter Fleming, Seattle, Wash.; James Elliot, Portland, Ore., and Roger Yoderian, Billings, Mont.

The Air Force joined the search after another flying missionary, John Keenan, made a reconnaissance flight over the area and reported seeing the stripped Piper Cub. He said he saw no sign of the missionaries but spotted several Indian canoes heading down the river.

KEENAN MADE his investigation after the mission party radioed it had encountered a group of Indians, then broke radio contact. Soon after the hunt began, a Quito radio station relayed a message from a U. S. search plane that it had sighted the Piper Cub, stripped of its fabric, and alongside it a body pierced with an Indian lance.

However, Air Force headquarters in the Canal Zone said its report from the search pilot placed the body about 300 or 400 yards from the plane and made no mention of a lance.

The Air Force emphasized that this report made no identification of the body, either as that of a white man or an Indian.

The mission party set up its base about a week ago at Shell Mera, an oil company headquarters. Saint first flew McCully and Yoderian to the jungle clearing, then returned to Shell Mera, where his wife had remained to receive communications from the party.

On Saturday, McCully and Yoderian reported friendly contact with the Aucas Indians. Saint took off again Sunday with Elliot and Fleming.

Shortly after landing at the scene Saint messaged his wife that he would transmit again at 4 p. m. At that time he began sending another message, then broke off to tell of the approaching Aucas. It was his last word.

THE AUCAS, described as the least civilized of Ecuador's Indian tribes, have rarely been seen by white men.

All five men have been in mission work in South America from 3 to 10 years. All were married and had their families with them. Saint has a 10-month-old daughter, Yoderian two children, Elliot a 1-year-old daughter and McCully two small sons. The Flemings have no children.

Yoderian was a member of the Gospel Missionary Union and the others of an organization named Christian Missions in Many Lands.

Ag Agency Spokesman Cold To Ohio Solon's Water Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Eisenhower administration official expressed doubt today that an Ohio congressman's proposal to boost federal payments to farmers for water conservation practices would be justified.

The government's present system of sharing costs of impounding water with the individual farmer on a 50-50 basis, said Assistant Secretary of Agriculture E. L. Peterson, "seems just about right."

The plan to broaden federal help to the farmer in water conservation to meet a "widespread water crisis" was outlined in legislation introduced by Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio).

Brown's bill would provide (1) federal payments up to 75 per cent of the cost to farmers building water impoundment and regulating structures, and (2) maximum federal payments of $20 an acre annually for the "rental, use, and management of land providing the drainage area for such impoundments."

BROWN SAID he realized the Agriculture Department now pays about 50 per cent of the cost of building water impoundments. However, he said that in view of the tremendous new water requirements "facing town and country alike" that this is "an inadequate incentive."

But Peterson said "it seems to me we're about at the right stage of our partnership right now" with respect to water conservation payments.

"I suspect farmers themselves are benefited at least as much as the government," he said.

With respect to the second part of the bill, Brown said it would "provide for a development of a water bank program somewhat similar to the various proposals being advanced for the development of a soil fertility bank program."

Peterson said this was a new idea as far as he is concerned, and that "I'd have to look at that one pretty closely."

Agriculture department sources say that Ohio still needs a great deal more water conservation work both to protect the soil and to satisfy the increasing demands for water.

Collectively, conservation groups in four areas in Ohio are working with the federal government on "watershed" programs, building small retaining dams.

These Ohio areas are: Rocky Fork of Clear Creek in the Highland County soil conservation district; Upper Hocking in the Fairfield County soil conservation district; Marsh Run watershed in Richland, Crawford and Huron Counties and Conotton watershed in Harrison and Carroll counties.

Herbert, in his arguments before the high court, dwelt on a statement by Kirk that Mr. Sheppard "bit her attacker on the finger and the defendant (Sheppard) bore no bite wounds."

Sheppard contended that an intruder fatally beat his wife in their second floor bedroom while he napped downstairs.

Roused from sleep, Sheppard said he grappled with the intruder on the upper floor but was knocked out. He said he came to and pursued the intruder to the beach but again was knocked out.

The prosecution contended there was no intruder but that Sheppard manufactured the story to cover his own crime.

Penniless Pensioner Once Millionaire

CHICAGO (AP)—A penniless 88-year-old pensioner who was fatally injured by a hit-run automobile, has been disclosed to be a former Chicago millionaire.

An old friend testifying at an inquest, identified the victim as Ellsworth B. Overshiner, who more than 40 years ago owned two telephone companies. He was struck by a car Jan. 1 and died Sunday in a small room in a near North Side hotel. He reportedly lost his entire fortune in a tungsten mining venture in South America.

'New Evidence' Angle Shunned By Tribunal

Widely-Publized Case May Not Go On Docket Before Next March

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court today agreed to review the conviction of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard for the murder of his wife, Marilyn.

Sheppard is serving a life sentence in Ohio Penitentiary for the budgeon slaying in his Bay Village home west of Cleveland on Lake Erie on July 4, 1954.

The 32-year-old osteopath entered prison last July 20 after a trial that attracted nationwide attention.

Sheppard filed a two-way appeal to the high court. The court agreed to consider the merits of his appeal, but turned down his appeal from lower court refusal to grant a new trial on grounds of newly discovered evidence.

In Cleveland, William J. Corrigan, who led Sheppard's attorneys in the original court battle, said the review will be "confined to the record as made at the time of the trial."

That, he added, "is enough, some two million words." Corrigan had no further comment.

The high court gave no indication when it would hear oral arguments on the appeal before handing down a decision.

The court admitted the case under its motion docket which customarily does not show how judges voted.

ON THE SECOND phase of the appeal, the judges unanimously refused to consider the case on grounds of alleged error in denying Sheppard a new trial.

After hearing full oral arguments, if the court allows Sheppard's conviction to stand, he must serve a full 10 years in prison from the date of his admission before being eligible for parole consideration.

Sheppard's lawyers have indicated they would appeal any such decision by the state supreme court to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Court attaches indicated privately the Sheppard case probably cannot be placed on the court's docket for hearing before March.

Paul M. Herbert, Columbus attorney and former lieutenant-governor, placed considerable store on the claim of newly discovered evidence in the Sheppard case. Herbert was retained as special counsel in the case.

Dr. Paul L. Kirk, California criminologist, presented the new evidence. The gist of his report was that a prowler entered the Sheppard home and committed the murder.

Herbert, in his arguments before the high court, dwelt on a statement by Kirk that Mr. Sheppard "bit her attacker on the finger and the defendant (Sheppard) bore no bite wounds."

Sheppard contended that an intruder fatally beat his wife in their second floor bedroom while he napped downstairs.

Roused from sleep, Sheppard said he grappled with the intruder on the upper floor but was knocked out. He said he came to and pursued the intruder to the beach but again was knocked out.

The prosecution contended there was no intruder but that Sheppard manufactured the story to cover his own crime.

Southeast Still Suffering In Unseasonable Cold Snap

(By The Associated Press)

An unseasonable cold snap held a tight grip over Florida and other Southeast areas today with no indication of immediate relief.

Near-freezing weather nipped tender growing vegetables in southeast Florida with losses estimated in the millions of dollars. The citrus crop appeared not to have suffered heavy damage.

The tourist trade in the winter playground also suffered.

Temperatures dropped to 42 degrees in Miami yesterday and climbed to 67 during the day. But the mercury dropped into the 40s again this morning.

A storm center off the east coast of New Jersey was blamed for the cold weather. Northerly winds continued to feed colder air southward into the Gulf states. Snow was reported on the ground in Knoxville, Tenn.

The chilly air draining into the Southeastern states kept temperatures far below seasonal normals all of yesterday with readings in the 40s and 50s in Florida, the Carolinas, Louisiana, Georgia and Alabama.

The storm did weather tricks in the Northeast too. Warm, moist air poured over the area and westward into the Great Lakes region and Ohio Valley. There was a mixture of drizzle, light rain and some freezing rain. Considerable fog was also reported.

Rains, which have swept the Northeast over the weekend, appeared diminishing during the night. Winds, which had lashed the New England coast, also abated. Floods, however, continued to threaten some New England areas.

Temperatures in some sections of the Northeast were higher than in the Southeast. There were little changes during the night with small rises in most of the eastern third of the country and in areas west of the Rockies.

It was fairly cold in northern Midwest areas with temperatures around zero in sections of northern Minnesota and North Dakota.

By Wash Fayette

President Eisenhower's nomination of Robert W. Minor as a member of the all-important Interstate Commerce Commission is of more than passing interest in Washington C. H. and throughout Fayette County.

For Robert Minor not only has made a good many personal friends here in the last 10 years, but he also is forming some very strong family ties. Mrs. Minor is a Washington C. H. girl, the former Joan Allen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Allen of Cherry Hill.

The Minors and their two children, Robert Allen, 7, and Mary Ann, 3, get back "home" to visit two or three times a year. Mrs. Minor was here with the children for nearly a month last summer, but he had less time to spend. However, he took time to come for a brief visit with the Allens about a month ago during a business trip to Ohio.

Joan Allen and Bob Minor met in his home town of Columbus not long after she had been graduated from Miami University and he had come back to civilian life at the close of the second World War; the present Mrs. Minor had taken a position with radio station WCOL in Columbus and he was readying himself for a career in the legal profession after he received his degree in law from Ohio State University.

Bob Minor went into the army as a private, but he was a lieutenant colonel when he went out after combat service in Europe. His commissions were made on the field of battle.

The nomination of the 36-year-old Minor should not come as much of a surprise to those here who know him and are familiar with his rise in his profession.

When he went to the nation's capital, it was in connection with the unAmerican activities investigation being conducted at that time by a committee headed by Sen. Ferguson. Attorney William Rogers was the investigating committee's chief legal counsel and young Bob Minor was his assistant.

Sen. John W. Bricker, impressed by his work, asked him to become his administrative assistant. He accepted in 1949 and stayed with him until 1953, shortly after President Eisenhower took office and named his cabinet. When William Rogers became deputy attorney general, it was not long until Bob Minor was his first assistant again.

It was while in this position that the president nominated him for the Interstate Commerce Commission to serve out the remainder of the term of J. Haden Aldridge, who retired. His term expires Dec. 31, 1958.

Injured Man Hoisted From Deep Pit

Londale Gore, 21, of near Chillicothe, narrowly escaped death or serious injury at the new purifying station, filtration and softening plant being constructed for the Ohio Water Service Co. about 2:15 P. M. Tuesday, when he fell from a ladder to the concrete floor of the filtration pit.

The distance he fell was 18 to 20 feet, although the reservoir pit is much deeper than that.

He was employed by the construction company which is building the plant, and it was at first thought he was injured critically. It was with difficulty that he was removed from the pit, but the Gestner ambulance crew used a collapsible stretcher which was lowered into the pit through a 30 inch square opening.

Gore was strapped to the stretcher, and ropes were attached, so that he was pulled upward, through the small opening in the floor, and then taken to Memorial Hospital.

X-rays failed to disclose any fractured bones, but he had sustained severe bruises, some cuts and sprains.

Wednesday his condition was reported as good.

DR. SAM'S CASE BACK IN COURT

Youthful Car Thief Faces Reformatory

Robert Featherston, 17, who led the deputy sheriffs and police in a wild chase before being overtaken and forced to surrender on the Columbus Road last Thursday about 2 A. M., was Wednesday morning sentenced to the state reformatory at Mansfield.

Sentence was passed by Judge R. L. Brubaker in juvenile court, after Featherston had previously pleaded guilty to stealing an automobile here and after the Boys Industrial School officials at Lancaster had given their approval to the court action here.

He will be taken to the reformatory within the next day or two and the officers said they will take no chance on his escaping while en route.

Featherston, who recently escaped from the Boys Industrial School where he was serving time for breaking and entering, was found parked on the Jeffersonville Road, but immediately dashed away in a car he had stolen in Eaton after he had abandoned one stolen here.

He was chased at top speed to Washington C. H., through the city and out the Columbus Road for eight miles before he was headed off by the police cruiser after traveling 100 miles an hour.

The car containing Deputy Sheriff Robert McArthur and Deputy Lawrence Mickle was immediately behind Featherston so that when his car was forced to stop, Deputy McArthur immediately leaped out of his car and arrested him.

Three shots fired into the back of the fugitive's car failed to even slow down his wild dash.

Last September Featherston was arrested at his home at Parrett's Station, where he had hidden under the floor of the house.

Featherston had stolen 10 gallons of gas from a nearby farm house just before the deputies on patrol duty ran across him on the Jeffersonville Road, Thursday morning.

After escaping from the BIS he had stolen a pickup truck in Lancaster, came here, abandoned the truck and stole a car owned by Howard Griffith.

The Griffith car was abandoned in Eaton when the gas supply was exhausted, and Featherston stole two other cars, one of which he was driving when apprehended near here.

He later admitted that he had burglarized a service station in Hamilton, Sheriff Orland Hayes stated.

Polygamous Parents Defy Utah Officials

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Utah child welfare officials are returning to the courts in efforts to make a Short Creek couple either give up their children or sign affidavits saying they won't teach them to practice polygamy.

A party of welfare workers, led by Lamar Andrus, went into the isolated Utah-Arizona border town yesterday to take custody of the eight children of Leonard and Vera Black. They gave up the attempt when townspeople barred them.

Last night, Director John Farr Larson of the state's Bureau of Services for Children, said he was instructing Andrus, a child welfare consultant, to:

1. Secure complaints against the people who barred the way, charging them with "interfering with an officer in performance of duty."

2. Ask Cedar City juvenile court to start contempt proceedings against the Blacks.

Utah's attempt to take custody of the Black children started after Arizona raided the settlement in July 1953 and jailed several townspeople in efforts to stamp out the practice of plural marriage there. The Blacks live on the Utah side of Short Creek.

Many residents of the hamlet are "fundamentalists" who believe that plural marriage is the law of God. Though they insist this is the true doctrine of the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church, the church outlawed polygamy in 1890.

When her father, Frank F. Fabry, 47, a clerk, drove into the driveway last night, Marie hurried to light the stove on which her mother had left a prepared meal before going to her job.

As the child started to light the stove, a blast of flame flashed back, setting fire to her dress. She died this morning in Fairview Park Hospital.

Whether he will be permitted to attend public school like other boys and girls depends on a court conference today in Cincinnati.

Industrial School officials at Lancaster had given their approval to the court action here.

He will be taken to the reformatory within the next day or two and the officers said they will take no chance on his escaping while en route.

Featherston, who recently escaped from the Boys Industrial School where he was serving time for breaking and entering, was found parked on the Jeffersonville Road, but immediately dashed away in a car he had stolen in Eaton after he had abandoned one stolen here.

He was chased at top speed to Washington C. H., through the city and out the Columbus Road for eight miles before he was headed off by the police cruiser after traveling 100 miles an hour.

The car containing Deputy Sheriff Robert McArthur and Deputy Lawrence Mickle was immediately behind Featherston so that when his car was forced to stop, Deputy McArthur immediately leaped out of his car and arrested him.

Three shots fired into the back of the fugitive's car failed to even slow down his wild dash.

Last September Featherston was arrested at his home at Parrett's Station, where he had hidden under the floor of the house.

Featherston had stolen 10 gallons of gas from a nearby farm house just before the deputies on patrol duty ran across him on the Jeffersonville Road, Thursday morning.

After escaping from the BIS he had stolen a pickup truck in Lancaster, came here, abandoned the truck and stole a car owned by Howard Griffith.

The Griffith car was abandoned in Eaton when the gas supply was exhausted, and Featherston stole two other cars, one of which he was driving when apprehended near here.

He later admitted that he had burglarized a service station in Hamilton, Sheriff Orland Hayes stated.

Utah child welfare officials are returning to the courts in efforts to make a Short Creek couple either give up their children or sign affidavits saying they won't teach them to practice polygamy.

A party of welfare workers, led by Lamar Andrus, went into the isolated Utah-Arizona border town yesterday to take custody of the eight children of Leonard and Vera Black. They gave up the attempt when townspeople barred them.

Last night, Director John Farr Larson of the state's Bureau of Services for Children, said he was instructing Andrus, a child welfare consultant, to:

1. Secure complaints against the people who barred the way, charging them with "interfering with an officer in performance of duty."

2. Ask Cedar City juvenile court to start contempt proceedings against the Blacks.

FRIDAY THE 13TH

Washington C. H. merchants--33 of them--today were getting ready to put the jinx on that old bad luck superstition about Friday the 13th with some of the best special sales at special reduced prices they have offered in a long time.

What they are getting ready in their stores is going to make the people of this community start saying that Friday the 13th is a good luck day in Washington C. H.

These Friday the 13th special selling events are not exactly new in Washington C. H.; the merchants here have been hexing the Friday the 13th superstition so long the hex almost has come to be an institution.

And, since these Friday the 13th merchandising events have become a sort of custom, the merchants checked their calendars and started preparing for this one weeks ago. Some of them went out and bought merchandise especially for this event; others put the price tags on some of their stock through the wringer to make bargains that are bargains.

The hex on the Friday the 13th superstition is being applied by a wide variety of businesses in a wide variety of ways to give the people of this community some price cuts they will be talking about for a long time.

To fully appreciate what these merchants are doing for you, you will just have to go through today's Record-Herald page by page and their advertisements of:

American Missionaries Feared Seized in Jungle

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Planes combed the Amazon jungle today for five Protestant U.S. missionaries believed seized by savage Indians. Air Force reports of a body lying near their plane's stripped skeleton aroused fear for their lives.

A U. S. Army helicopter was dispatched from the Canal Zone today to take part with Air Force planes in the hunt for the men, missing in a remote jungle region of northeastern Ecuador.

The five men flew their small Piper Cub into the bush area last week to do mission work among primitive tribesmen. They were identified as Nat Saint, Huntington Valley, Pa., a Philadelphia suburb; Edward McCully, Milwaukee; Peter Fleming, Seattle, Wash.; James Elliot, Portland, Ore., and Roger Youderian, Billings, Mont.

The Air Force joined the search after another flying missionary, John Keenan, made a reconnaissance flight over the area and reported seeing the stripped Piper Cub. He said he saw no sign of the missionaries but spotted several Indian canoes heading down the river.

KEENAN MADE his investigation after the mission party radioed it had encountered a group of Indians, then broke radio contact.

Soon after the hunt began, a Quito radio station relayed a message from a U. S. search plane that it had sighted the Piper Cub, stripped of its fabric, and alongside it a body pierced with an Indian lance.

However, Air Force headquarters in the Canal Zone said its report from the search pilot placed the body about 300 or 400 yards from the plane and made no mention of a lance.

The Air Force emphasized that this report made no identification of the body, either as that of a white man or an Indian.

The mission party set up its base about a week ago at Shell Mera, an oil company headquarters. Saint first flew McCully and Youderian to the jungle clearing, then returned to Shell Mera, where his wife had remained to receive communications from the party.

On Saturday, McCully and Youderian reported friendly contact with the Auca Indians. Saint took off again Sunday with Elliot and Fleming.

Shortly after landing at the scene Saint messaged his wife that he would transmit again at 4 p. m. at that time he began sending another message, then broke off to tell of the approaching Auca. It was his last word.

THE AUCA, described as the least civilized of Ecuador's Indian tribes, have rarely been seen by white men.

All five men have been in mission work in South America from 3 to 10 years. All were married and had their families with them. Saint has a 10-month-old daughter, Youderian two children, Elliot a 1-year-old daughter and McCully two small sons. The Flemings have no children.

Youderian was a member of the Gospel Missionary Union and the others of an organization named Christian Missions in Many Lands.

Ag Agency Spokesman Cold To Ohio Solon's Water Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Eisenhower administration official expressed doubt today that an Ohio congressman's proposal to boost federal payments to farmers for water conservation practices would be justified.

The government's present system of sharing costs of impounding water with the individual farmer on a 50-50 basis, said Assistant Secretary of Agriculture E. L. Peterson, "seems just about right."

The plan to broaden federal help to the farmer in water conservation to meet a "widespread water crisis" was outlined in legislation introduced by Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio).

Brown's bill would provide (1) federal payments up to 75 per cent of the cost to farmers building water impoundment and regulating structures, and (2) maximum federal payments of $20 an acre annually for the "rental, use, and management of land providing the drainage area for such impoundments."

BROWN SAID he realized the Agriculture Department now pays about 50 per cent of the cost of building water impoundments. However, he said that in view of the tremendous new water requirements "facing town and country alike" that this is "an inadequate incentive."

But Peterson said "it seems to me we're about at the right stage of our partnership right now" with respect to water conservation payments.

"I suspect farmers themselves are benefited at least as much as the government," he said.

With respect to the second part of the bill, Brown said it would "provide for a development of a water bank program somewhat similar to the various proposals being advanced for the development of a soil fertility bank program."

Peterson said this was a new idea as far as he is concerned, and that "I'd have to look at that one pretty closely."

Agriculture department sources say that Ohio still needs a great deal more water conservation work both to protect the soil and to satisfy the increasing demands for water.

Collectively, conservation groups in four areas in Ohio are working with the federal government on "watershed" programs, building small retaining dams.

These Ohio areas are: Rocky Fork of Clear Creek in the Highland County soil conservation district; Upper Hocking in the Fairfield County soil conservation district; Marsh Run watershed in Richland, Crawford and Huron Counties and Conotton watershed in Harrison and Carroll counties.

'New Evidence' Angle Shunned By Tribunal

Widely-Publized Case May Not Go On Docket Before Next March

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court today agreed to review the conviction of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard for the murder of his wife, Marilyn.

Sheppard is serving a life sentence in Ohio Penitentiary for the budgeon slaying in his Bay Village home west of Cleveland on Lake Erie on July 4, 1954.

The 32-year-old osteopath entered prison last July 20 after a trial that attracted nationwide attention.

Sheppard filed a two-way appeal to the high court. The court agreed to consider the merits of his appeal, but turned down his appeal from lower court refusal to grant a new trial on grounds of newly discovered evidence.

In Cleveland, William J. Corrigan, who led Sheppard's attorneys in the original court battle, said the review will be "confined to the record as made at the time of the trial."

That, he added, "is enough, some two million words." Corrigan had no further comment.

The high court gave no indication when it would hear oral arguments on the appeal before handing down a decision.

The court admitted the case under its motion docket which customarily does not show how judges voted.

ON THE SECOND phase of the appeal, the judges unanimously refused to consider the case on grounds of alleged error in denying Sheppard a new trial.

After hearing future oral arguments, if the court allows Sheppard's conviction to stand, he must serve a full 10 years in prison from the date of his admission before being eligible for parole consideration.

Sheppard's lawyers have indicated they would appeal any such decision by the state supreme court to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Court attaches indicated privately the Sheppard case probably cannot be placed on the court's docket for hearing before March.

Paul M. Herbert, Columbus attorney and former lieutenant governor, placed considerable store on the claim of newly discovered evidence in the Sheppard case. Herbert was retained as special counsel in the case.

Dr. Paul L. Kirk, California criminologist, presented the new evidence. The gist of his report was that a prowler entered the Sheppard home and committed the murder.

Herbert, in his arguments before the high court, dwelt on a statement by Kirk that Mrs. Sheppard "bit her attacker on the finger and the defendant (Sheppard) bore no bite wounds."

Selden To Have Juvenile Grange

Ralph Nisley Heads
March Degree Team

Selden Grange will soon include a Juvenile Grange, if plans the members made at their meeting Tuesday evening go well.

The Juvenile Grange is to be organized and headed by Mrs. Frances Perrill and Mrs. Helen June Waddell. In order to accommodate the junior members, the Grange will move its meeting an hour ahead. The new meeting time will be 7:30 P. M., with 9 o'clock set for closing.

Ralph Nisley was appointed to head the degree team that will have charge of degree work during March. The annual inspection was slated for April.

Ballooning at the session made Mrs. Sam Marting, Jr., a member of the Grange, elected Mrs. Mattie MacDonald lecturer and put Selden into the next Community Service contest. Mrs. Lorain Morter, Mrs. Maurice Sollars and Mrs. Edwin Buck were selected to serve on the committee for the contest.

A REPORT on the White House Conference on Education was the highlight of the lecture hour. Edwin Buck, one of Ohio's representatives to the conference, was the speaker.

He reported on how delegates were selected, largely on their professions, geographical locations and religious preferences, to represent various sections of the state of Ohio.

The six main topics which were discussed in both the local and state White House Conferences were also discussed at the meeting in the nation's capital.

Following the lecture hour, refreshments were served by Mrs. Ethel Cavinee, Mr. and Mrs. Will Theobald, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Weidinger, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence DeWeese, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Woodmansee, Mrs. Roy Sollars, Mrs. G. A. Handley, Fred Enslin, Ralph Theobald, Miss Geraldine Yahr and Frank Rothrock.

Officers Reelected By Savings Bank

The Washington Savings Bank today was all set for another year under the guidance of the same board of directors and officers.

Stockholders, at the annual meeting Tuesday afternoon, elected to the board Arthur H. Finley, Robert R. Meriweather, Roy B. Fultz, Herbert Hoppes, Arch O. Riber, Floyd L. Mitchell and George W. Campbell.

In the reorganization by the directors, they re-elected Finley for president, Meriweather for vice president, Fultz for vice president, Riber for secretary.

Services Held For Mrs. L. G. Brown

Funeral services for Mrs. Leonard G. Brown were held 2 P. M. Tuesday at the Hook and Son Funeral Home with Rev. Arthur George conducting services.

Rev. George read from the Scriptures, read the 21st, 91st and 121st Psalms, offered prayer, gave a sermon, read a memoir and read two hymns, "Crossing the River" and "Crossing the Bar".

He also read the poem "Oh Lord, Thou art the Truth, the Light and the Way."

Palbearers were Howard East, Charles Minshall, Rev. Henry Leeth, Willard Lemon and Harold Greer.

Burial was in the family lot in the Milledgeville Cemetery.

Selden To Have Juvenile Grange

Ralph Nisley Heads
March Degree Team

Selden Grange will soon include a Juvenile Grange, if plans the members made at their meeting Tuesday evening go well.

The Juvenile Grange is to be organized and headed by Mrs. Frances Perrill and Mrs. Helen Jane Waddell. In order to accommodate the junior members, the Grange will move its meeting an hour ahead. The new meeting time will be 7:30 P. M., with 9 o'clock set for closing.

Ralph Nisley was appointed to head the degree team that will have charge of degree work during March. The annual inspection was slated for April.

Ballooning at the session made Mrs. Sam Marting, Jr., a member of the Grange, elected Mrs. Matt MacDonald lecturer and put Selden into the next Community Service contest. Mrs. Lorain Morter, Mrs. Maurice Sollars and Mrs. Edwin Buck were selected to serve on the committee for the contest.

A REPORT on the White House Conference on Education was the highlight of the lecture hour. Edwin Buck, one of Ohio's representatives to the conference, was the speaker.

He reported on how delegates were selected, largely on their professions, geographical locations and religious preferences, to represent various sections of the state of Ohio.

The six main topics which were discussed in both the local and state White House Conferences were also discussed at the meeting in the nation's capital.

Following the lecture hour, refreshments were served by Mrs. Ethel Cavine, Mr. and Mrs. Will Theobald, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Weidinger, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence DeWeese, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Woodmansee, Mrs. Roy Sollars, Mrs. G. A. Handley, Fred Ennsen, Ralph Theobald, Miss Geraldine Yahn and Frank Rothrock.

Couple Returning

MANILA (AP)—Dr. and Mrs. Homer V. Bradshaw, a U.S. missionary couple released last month from five years imprisonment in Red China, left today for the United States on a military plane.

Officers Reelected By Savings Bank

The Washington Savings Bank today was all set for another year under the guidance of the same board of directors and officers.

Stockholders, at the annual meeting Tuesday afternoon, elected to the board Arthur H. Finley, Robert R. Meriweather, Roy B. Fultz, Herbert Hoppes, Arch O. Riber, Floyd L. Mitchell and George W. Campbell.

In the reorganization by the directors, they re-elected Finley for president, Meriweather for vice president, Fultz for vice president, Riber for secretary.

And, in a statement following the meeting the directors said: "The continued decline in farm income is causing concern not only here, but to our government. It is hoped, and expected, that Congress will work out a satisfactory solution and that 1956 will be an even better year than 1955 for all of us."

Services Held For Mrs. L. G. Brown

Funeral services for Mrs. Leonard G. Brown were held 2 P. M. Tuesday at the Hook and Son Funeral Home with Rev. Arthur George conducting services.

Rev. George read from the Scriptures, read the 21st, 91st and 121st Psalms, offered prayer, gave a sermon, read a memoir and read two hymns, "Crossing the River" and "Crossing the Bar".

He also read the poem "Oh Lord, Thou art the Truth, the Light and the Way."

Pallbearers were Howard East, Charles Minshall, Rev. Henry Leeth, Willard Lemon and Harold Greer.

Burial was in the family lot in the Milledgeville Cemetery.

treasurer and Mitchell for assistant secretary-treasurer.

William J. Purcell was re-appointed assistant treasurer, Richard Rankin the attorney and Campbell the teller.

The officers told the stockholders about the new and modern equipment that had been placed in the bank during the past year to "facilitate the ever-increasing volume of business."

And, in a statement following the meeting the directors said: "The continued decline in farm income is causing concern not only here, but to our government. It is hoped, and expected, that Congress will work out a satisfactory solution and that 1956 will be an even better year than 1955 for all of us."

Rotarians Hear Talk On Orient

Bob Riley Describes Eastern Religions

"In order to understand the people of the Far East, you have to understand their religions." That was a central point of the talk Bob Riley gave Rotarians Tuesday afternoon at their weekly luncheon meeting in the Country Club.

Riley traveled in the Far East for several years while working for an oil company tapping the region's rich oil deposits. As he traveled, he was an interested observer of the people and their customs, he said.

The country that interested him most was China. That is the home of the world's most efficient farmers, he said, men who waste nothing in their attempt to earn a living from the land.

The soil is filled with disease, he said, adding that the reason the Chinese are habitual tea drinkers may be that all water must be boiled. But despite their handicaps—or perhaps because of them—the Chinese are the world's best farmers, he said.

The religion of the Chinese is ancestor worship, in which Riley sees the key to the eventual downfall of Chinese Communism.

Since family life is the basis of all Chinese living, and the individual Chinese considers himself his own master, Riley believes the Chinese will themselves eventually reject Communism.

"The Chinese could be sold Communism because they were hungry," he said. "But they will eventually reject it."

INDIA'S DOMINANT Hindu religion incorporates the caste system which Riley said has made the nation "backward." He called Hinduism a "do-nothing religion."

Hottest problem in India today is overpopulation. "If all the Indians tried to lie down," he said, "there wouldn't be room."

In Persia, the Moslem religion is fast-growing — in fact, Riley reported, it is active even in New York. "Moslems believe in the same God Christians do," he said, "but they appeal to Him through Mohammed rather than through Christ."

"Jerusalem is the melting pot of the world's religions," he said. "They're all there."

Israel is technologically the most advanced land in the East, he said, partly because American Zionists have poured a great deal of money and technical aid into the country.

Side comments on the new nation and its people: "Tel Aviv is a real city—a little New York."

"The Jews in Israel are the most generous people anywhere in a charitable fund drive."

A NATIVE of Fayette County, Riley was introduced by Ben Norris, Norris pointed out that in his last appearance before Rotary, nine years ago, Riley had predicted serious trouble between the U. S. and the Soviet Union—thereby improving his reputation here as a political crystal gazer.

The business meeting that preceded the talk opened as President Paul Dougherty offered congratulations to Ray Brandenburg on his candidacy for the state senate and wished him well.

Robert Haigler, just back from Mexico, presented Dougherty a Mexican calendar "to keep track of the members' birthdays better."

This week, however, Dougherty confounded his critics by naming correctly the three members whose birthdays fell during the week.

They were Bill Huron, George Steen and J. E. Peters.

New charter member badges were presented to Dr. Fred Wilford, Frank Jackson and W. M. Campbell.

Jaycees Here Have Meeting

See Monaco Film, Plan State Parley

A color film of the Mediterranean area taken by a Jaycee member and planning for the quarterly state meeting were the main order of business at this month's meeting of the Washington C. H. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The dinner meeting started 7:30 P. M. at the Anderson Restaurant.

The film, taken by John Sagar, Jr., while in the Navy, included shots of the principality of Monaco, French Riviera domain of Prince Rainier III whose recent engagement to film actress Grace Kelly rocked Hollywood and U. S. film fans.

The Monaco portion of the film included the famous gambling casino of Monte Carlo and the Casino's gardens.

Also filmed by Sagar in his travels were the ruins of Pompey, bits of Greece and Algeria and views of some of the larger Navy ships including the Wasp, Bennington and Midway.

Jaycee president Bob Callison outlined the schedule for the statewide Junior Chamber quarterly meeting Saturday and Sunday at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel in Columbus.

BETWEEN 600 and 800 persons are expected to attend the sessions. Saturday evening a luncheon and square dance are planned, going along with the theme "Come to the Barn" chosen by sponsoring organizations from Marion and Mt. Vernon.

Starting 10 A. M. Sunday 18 forums will be going on simultaneously, dealing with permanent parts of the Jaycee program. Forums will include such topics as civic improvement, local organization, "Boss's Night," membership and assimilation and international relations.

The forms, lasting until noon, will be led by state officers or national officers from Ohio.

At 12:30 the meeting will wind up with a banquet, including introduction of guests, a guest speaker, state reports and roll call for attending organizations.

Callison pointed out at the meeting here that each local organization would answer roll call with the number of members present from that organization. He expressed hope for a large majority of members attending from Washington C. H.

Hospital Board Is Given Report

The Memorial Hospital board of directors held their annual meeting recently to clean up the usual monthly stock of routine details, including approving the bills for the month.

The report for the month of December showed admissions totalling 251 persons, with 54 babies born at the hospital and 1,876 patient days.

The high hospital census for the month was 76, with a low census of 42. There were 43 major and 36 minor operations performed.

The laboratory examinations totalled 2,326 during the month, with 717 X-rays taken.

There were 375 outpatients.

The laundry handled 27,954 pounds of laundry.

Hospital Priority List To Be Studied

COLUMBUS (AP)—The state health department will hold a public hearing Jan. 20 to prepare a new priority list of Ohio hospitals needing federal aid.

There are 74 hospital areas in the state, and the department annually lists them according to how urgently they need federal aid.

Areas now in the highest priority group are Van Wert, Waverly, Piketon, Hillsboro, Findlay, Paulding, Tiffin, Ravenna, Port Clinton, Greenville, Gallipolis and Steubenville.

OSU Is Given $101,394 Bequest

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio State University has received a bequest of $101,394 from the estate of the late Mrs. Elizabeth T. Ludwig of suburban Bexley who died in 1954.

She was the widow of Dr. Edward C. Ludwig, a 1909 graduate of Starling-Ohio Medical College, now a part of the university.

OSU said income from the bequest will become one of the endowment funds of the university to be used for research in the cause and treatment of coronary disease and coronary thrombosis.

Algiers University is the third ranking in the French Union, with 89 professorships and 5,000 students.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Orient

Bob Riley Describes Eastern Religions

"In order to understand the people of the Far East, you have to understand their religions."

That was a central point of the talk Bob Riley gave Rotarians Tuesday afternoon at their weekly luncheon meeting in the Country Club.

Riley traveled in the Far East for several years while working for an oil company tapping the region's rich oil deposits. As he traveled, he was an interested observer of the people and their customs, he said.

The country that interested him most was China. That is the home of the world's most efficient farmers, he said, men who waste nothing in their attempt to earn a living from the land.

Danger Lurks In Greater Federal School Aid

Will the Congress starting its session this month, become so carried away by the thought of the many votes it hopes to satisfy in the school administration and school teaching groups in the various districts of congressmen, in this 1956 election year, that another huge appropriation will be provided for extensive federal aid to schools?

This problem is giving many of our economic thinkers in the country something serious to worry over.

Will the federal government provide ample funds which may mean there will soon arise a new and growing bureaucracy group, which added to what the nation already has, will prove another burdensome stone around the government's neck, to create more financial problems and probably more taxes, with less chance of cutting down the huge federal debt on which interest alone is becoming a serious fact in our national tax problem? Then will the government find it necessary, after playing with the problem a few years, to take over complete control of the schools?

All across the country there are independently-minded people beginning to speak up, declaring there are grave dangers inherent in the present enthusiastic move to provide federal aid to education far in excess of what is now being given.

The White House Conference on Education is being used by the pro-federal-aiders as a springboard for all manner and kinds of propaganda designed to influence Congress.

In the first place, there has been little emphasis made on what seems to be a vital point and one which repudiates the report that the consensus of the conference was in favor of federal aid. It was contained in the final and official report and confessed that:

"The general consensus was this: No state represented has demonstrated financial incapacity to build schools it will need during the next five years. But with the exception of a few states, none of the states presently has plans which indicate a political determination powerful enough to overcome all of the obstacles."

How can a conference come to this conclusion and at the same time try to indicate that there is a need for federal aid to education, is a mystery that only the educationalists could solve. The report says clearly that there are no states which could not supply all of the money required at any time the people wanted to provide the money — and that if there is a reluctance on the part of any people in a given state to put up the money it is only because the people are reluctant — not because the states are "too poor" or some other nonsense.

What the White House Conference probably actually was saying was that the people are getting mighty sick of dumping more and more millions into school systems many of which are proving to be more and more unsatisfactory. States as the conference delegates knew, can very well take care of their own school problems if and when the people want to and are willing to raise the money. Obviously there is no need to go crying to the federal government for a handout of money first taken from the states.

What, then is the sole, remaining reason for all of the push for federal aid to education? It seems obvious to many that the reason is to place the school system under the control of the federal government. Such control, of course, will not come "all of a sudden." Government does not work that way. But, little by little, more and more restrictions and controls will be placed on the schools until the point is reached when the public will throw up its hands and turn the whole job over to the federal government — to pay for with money taken from the states.

We hope that such a time will never come, and it will not if there are sufficient people opposed to federal aid to education who make known their opposition, not only to their local school boards but to their representatives and other officials in Washington.

Young Pianist Zooming Fast

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Many elderly ladies who dote on Liberace probably never heard of Roger Williams.

They don't swoon and have to be revived with smelling salts every time he sits down at a piano.

On the other hand, Williams, a rising young artist of the keyboard, has a solid achievement to his credit that so far has evaded the curly-haired "man in the silver lace tuxedo."

Liberace, whose albums have done well, has never yet turned out a real hit record. Williams has. His first recording, the popular, "Autumn Leaves," has sold more than 1,200,000 plat- ters, remained a solid hit for five straight months. This kind of thing is usually only an instrumentalist's dream.

"And it still seems like a dream to me," confessed the 31-year-old Navy veteran.

Roger, son of a prominent Des Moines, Iowa, Lutheran minister, won considerable success in the Midwest before coming to New York. Two lucky breaks helped lift him from the rut in which hundreds of fine musicians find themselves lost here.

The first break came when he went to a television talent show to serve as accompanist for a young singer.

"She was too nervous to go on," Roger recalled, "so I was asked to fill in by playing a few numbers of my own."

The audience liked him so well he won the $1,000 prize.

He got the second break by attending the recording session of another artist. The session ended half an hour early. The head of the firm suggested Roger rehearse a number himself.

Williams happened to have the music for "Autumn Leaves" with him. He sat down and played it. The rehearsal recording turned out to be just what the man wanted. In 20 minutes one of the year's top records was born.

Williams, who hopes to combine a concert career with tours of the supper club circuit, is a serious musician with a great fondness for jazz, too. As a performer, he'd like to have the range of both Paderewski and Count Basie with maybe a bit of Victor Borge thrown in. He feels it is a mistake to over-specialize.

"People look down on jazz because it came out of bars and night clubs. But most music has come out of churches or bars in the past."

"Bach's music came from the church. The music of Mozart and Haydn, if you strain the point a bit, is a kind of night club music. They were court musicians, of course, but their melodies were originally played for people who were eating and drinking as they listened. In this respect a court audience then was something like a night club audience of today."

Reminded that Wolfgang Mozart, born 200 years ago, had died a pauper in an unmarked grave, Williams smiled and said:

"Maybe I'll starve, but I want to do the best in music, no matter what kind it is, and make it provide people more than merely a sensual feeling."

Dilemma Faced By India's Nehru

By George Sokolsky

Since 1927, Pandit Nehru has had some association with the communists. In that year, he attended the meeting of the League Against Imperialism in Brussels and was made a vice president. It was a united front meeting, controlled by the communists of the Third International. Upon his return to India, he proposed that the Congress party join the League Against Imperialism. A year later, Nehru was elected, with communist support, President of the All-India Trade Union Congress despite the fact that he was not a worker but an intellectual out of the bourgeoisie. It was because of this position that he had a platform to build his political power.

His close associate, Krishna Menon, was, for nearly 20 years in London, a supporter of the communists in both England and India. According to Philip Spratt, at one time representative of the Third International in India and now an ex-communist:

"... People change their minds, but Mr. Menon's recent speeches do not suggest that he has changed his. I should guess that he is one of that considerable band of people in important positions in the free world who, though not technically party members, are in fact disciplined communists. Even if this is disputed, it will be agreed that there is something anomalous in a convinced partisan of the aggressor masquerading as a neutral mediator, and contriving so regularly to serve the aggressor's purposes. I hope people will not think I am suffering from a conspiracy mania: After all, communism is a conspiracy."

Philip Spratt should know because he was one of the conspirators sent from England to India for that purpose. His book, "Blowing Up India," which was published in 1955 in India, appears almost too late, because after having read it, one understands why Nehru got himself into his awkward present position by the disrespectful visit of Khrushchev and Bulganin to India. They acted as though they regarded Nehru as their man, a subaltern of the international communist movement; they treated him with contempt and accepted the homage of his people as their due. He had been posing as the world's principal neutral and they tore that false face off him. Nehru is naturally embarrassed, but what can he do about it? The deed is done and Nehru has to live with the consequences of the Khrushchev-Bulganin visit.

Philip Spratt, long in advance of this visit, wrote:

"... Nehru has never seen communist politics from the inside; probably he has seldom bothered to read the communist press. For at least 15 years past he has been so busy that his reading on many subjects must have suffered. He has obtained his information about communism from fellow-travelers of the 'new statesman' type, and from high-up communists, who will of course always have been on their best behavior. That he is really ignorant about what has been happening in the communist countries is almost proved by his amazing eulogy on Stalin in Parliament after the great tyrant's death."

But Khrushchev and Bulganin were not on their best behavior and they did not intend to be. Smiles were for Geneva; in India, they cursed in good, old-fashioned Russian style. They used India as a platform on which to reopen the cold war. Their attack was not only upon the United States, which was bad enough, but on Great Britain, which was worse, because Nehru is anxious to remain in the British Commonwealth and to have the good-will of the British government and people. The Russians did not give any consideration to Nehru's problems; they hit his policies down as though he were a minor Mao Tse-Tung. In fact, they never dared treat Mao as viciously as they have Nehru.

Some of the pro-Nehru Americans make the point that in his anxiety, Nehru would have turned toward the United States, had not John Foster Dulles spoken favorably of the Portuguese in Goa. That appears to me to be nonsense because, as statesman in a country that is not altogether totalitarian has to give consideration to indigenous public opinion and Nehru has said and done too much for nearly 30 years to make a sharp turn in the opposite direction. That is why the Russians have taken him for granted. They counted on the popular support which Nehru had organized for them."

Kitchen Dangerous Place Around Home

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

The most dangerous room in the house is the kitchen.

Things like turning the handles of cooking pots parallel with the back of the stove and wiping any grease or water spilled on the floor immediately are common sense safety habits.

But there are other practices for both you and your children which aren't as well known and which might well prevent a serious injury or even death:

Hot Grease

Spattering hot grease causes many burns. Since water makes grease "spit," be careful that none gets into a frying pan or deep fat fryer while cooking.

The temperature of grease must be controlled both for cooking and safety and the best way to do this is with a thermometer. If that isn't possible, drop a small piece of bread into the fat. When the fat toasts the bread to a golden brown in 10 seconds, it's ready for deep frying.

You can prevent fat from catching fire by filling the kettle to no more than four inches from the top. If it does ignite, turn out the flame immediately and with a long fork, place the cover over the flaming pan.

Grease Fire

If a grease fire starts in the broiler, throw a handful of ordinary salt or baking soda on it. Never use water on a grease fire.

When you light a gas oven, light the match first, then stand to one side and place the match to the oven burner.

As for the gas stove, remember a correctly adjusted flame has a blue inner cone. The presence of a yellow flame indicates the burner needs adjusting.

To protect your youngster from burns, start training him while he is young.

Say, "hot," and let him touch something just warm enough to give him a start. Also, you can warn him, by touching something with your hand and immediately pulling it away exclaiming, "Ow, it's hot." Or you can try pulling him away from the stove or a hot pan exclaiming "hot."

Spank Him

If none of these ideas work, maybe you'd better give him a spanking while repeating the word "hot" whenever he gets too near to something which might burn him.

Twenty Years Ago

Several rural schools in county are closed by blizzard which drifts many roads.

Fayette County's wheat crop, protected by the several recent snows is reported in good shape. Cost of Children's Home is below state average, Supt. David Whiteside's report shows.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Justice W. W. DeVees performed double wedding at Court House.

Six robbers held up Big Four train near Bellefontaine escaping with $2,670 in money and jewelry.

Thirty Years Ago

Dental Patients Wear Handcuffs

DENVER (AP)—A feller doesn't have a fightin' chance these days.

County jail prisoners remain handcuffed when they enter the dentist's chair at Denver General Hospital, Warden Gordon Dolliver ordered Tuesday. All because an accused robber, James J. Giron, 31, slugged a guard and tried to escape when officers removed the steel links as Giron was about to enter the chair.

GOP Policy Panel Opens Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Republican Policy Committee, in a move to achieve "more unity and harmony" among various party factions, has decided to open its sessions to all 46 GOP senators.

The committee said it received many complaints in the past that senators weren't informed of White House requests reaching the group. To forestall such criticism, all GOP senators will be invited to committee sessions held every Tuesday following the weekly White House conference of party congressional leaders and President Eisenhower.

Moscow Applauds Yank Performance

MOSCOW (AP)—The "Porgy and Bess" company has added Moscow to its long list of conquests.

An overflow audience wept, cheered and applauded for 8½ minutes after the final curtain of Tuesday night's opening performance in the Soviet capital.

The touring American Negro Company had won the same reception in a Leningrad engagement which began Dec. 26.

Danger Lurks In Greater Federal School Aid

Will the Congress starting its session this month, become so carried away by the thought of the many votes it hopes to satisfy in the school administration and school teaching groups in the various districts of congressmen, in this 1956 election year, that another huge appropriation will be provided for extensive federal aid to schools?

This problem is giving many of our economic thinkers in the country something serious to worry over.

Will the federal government provide ample funds which may mean there will soon arise a new and growing bureaucracy group, which added to what the nation already has, will prove another burden some stone around the government's neck, to create more financial problems and probably more taxes, with less chance of cutting down the huge federal debt on which interest alone is becoming a serious fact in our national tax problem? Then, will the government find it necessary, after playing with the problem a few years, to take over complete control of the schools?

All across the country there are independently-minded people beginning to speak up, declaring there are grave dangers inherent in the present enthusiastic move to provide federal aid to education far in excess of what is now being given.

The White House Conference on Education is being used by the pro-federal-aiders as a springboard for all manner and kinds of propaganda designed to influence Congress.

In the first place, there has been little emphasis made on what seems to be a vital point and one which repudiates the report that the consensus of the conference was in favor of federal aid. It was contained in the final and official report and confessed that:

"The general consensus was this: No state represented has demonstrated financial incapacity to build schools it will need during the next five years. But with the exception of a few states, none of the

How any conference can come to this conclusion and at the same time try to indicate that there is a need for federal aid to education, is a mystery that only the educationalists could solve. The report says clearly that there are no states which could not supply all of the money required at any time the people wanted to provide the money — and that if there is a reluctance on the part of any people in a given state to put up the money it is only because the people are reluctant — not because the states are "too poor" or some other nonsense.

What the White House Conference probably actually was saying was that the people are getting mighty sick of dumping more and more millions into school systems many of which are proving to be more and more unsatisfactory. States as the conference delegates knew, can very well take care of their own school problems if and when the people want to and are willing to raise the money. Obviously there is no need to go crying to the federal government for a handout of money first taken from the states.

What, then is the sole, remaining reason for all of the push for federal aid to education? It seems obvious to many that the reason is to place the school system under the control of the federal government. Such control, of course, will not come "all of a sudden." Government does not work that way. But, little by little, more and more restrictions and controls will be placed on the schools until the point is reached when the public will throw up its hands and turn the whole job over to the federal government—to pay for with money taken from the states.

We hope that such a time will never come, and it will not if there are sufficient people opposed to federal aid to education who make known their opposition, not only to their local school boards but to their representatives and other officials in Washington.

Young Pianist Zooming Fast

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Many elderly ladies who dote on Liberace probably never heard of Roger Williams.

They don't swoon and have to be revived with smelling salts every time he sits down at a piano.

On the other hand, Williams, a rising young artist of the keyboard, has a solid achievement to his credit that so far has evaded the curly-haired "man in the silver lace tuxedo."

Liberace, whose albums have done well, has never yet turned out a real hit record. Williams has. His first recording, the popular, "Autumn Leaves," has sold more than 1,200,000 plat- ters, remained a solid hit for five straight months. This kind of thing is usually only an instrumentalist's dream.

"And it still seems like a dream to me," confessed the 31-year-old Navy veteran.

Roger, son of a prominent Des Moines, Iowa, Lutheran minister, won considerable success in the Midwest before coming to New York. Two lucky breaks helped lift him from the rut in which hundreds of fine musicians find themselves lost here.

The first break came when he went to a television talent show to serve as accompanist for a young singer.

"She was too nervous to go on," Roger recalled, "so I was asked to fill in by playing a few numbers of my own."

The audience liked him so well he won the $1,000 prize.

He got the second break by attending the recording session of another artist. The session ended half an hour early. The head of the firm suggested Roger rehearse a number himself.

Williams happened to have the music for "Autumn Leaves" with him. He sat down and played it. The rehearsal recording turned out to be just what the man wanted. In 20 minutes one of the year's top records was born.

Williams, who hopes to combine a concert career with tours of the supper club circuit, is a serious musician with a great fondness for jazz, too. As a performer, he'd like to have the range of both Paderewski and Count Basie with maybe a bit of Victor Borge thrown in. He feels it is a mistake to over-specialize.

"People look down on jazz because it came out of bars and night clubs. But most music has come out of churches or bars in the past."

"Bach's music came from the church. The music of Mozart and Haydn, if you strain the point a bit, is a kind of night club music. They were court musicians, of course, but their melodies were originally played for people who were eating and drinking as they listened. In this respect a court audience then was something like a night club audience of today."

Reminded that Wolfgang Mozart, born 200 years ago, had died a pauper in an unmarked grave, Williams smiled and said:

"Maybe I'll starve, but I want to do the best in music, no matter what kind it is, and make it provide people more than merely a sensual feeling."

Dilemma Faced By India's Nehru

By George Sokolsky

Since 1927, Pandit Nehru has had some association with the communists. In that year, he attended the meeting of the League Against Imperialism in Brussels and was made a vice president. It was a united front meeting, controlled by the communists of the Third International. Upon his return to India, he proposed that the Congress party join the League Against Imperialism. A year later, Nehru was elected, with communist support, President of the All-India Trade Union Congress despite the fact that he was not a worker but an intellectual out of the bourgeoisie. It was because of this position that he had a platform to build his political power.

His close associate, Krishna Menon, was, for nearly 20 years in London, a supporter of the communists in both England and India. According to Philip Spratt, at one time representative of the Third International in India and now an ex-communist:

"... People change their minds, but Mr. Menon's recent speeches do not suggest that he has changed his. I should guess that he is one of that considerable band of people in important positions in the free world who, though not technically party members, are in fact disciplined communists. Even if this is disputed, it will be agreed that there is something anomalous in a convinced partisan of the aggressor masquerading as a neutral mediator, and contriving so regularly to serve the aggressor's purposes. I hope people will not think I am suffering from a conspiracy mania: After all communism is a conspiracy."

Philip Spratt should know because he was one of the conspirators sent from England to India for that purpose. His book, "Blowing Up India," which was published in 1955 in India, appears almost too late, because after having read it, one understands why Nehru got himself into his awkward present position by the disrespectful visit of Khrushchev and Bulganin to India. They acted as though they regarded Nehru as their man, a subaltern of the international communist movement; they treated him with contempt and accepted the homage of his people as their due. He had been posing as the world's principal neutral and they tore that false face off him. Nehru is naturally embarrassed, but what can he do about it? The deed is done and Nehru has to live with the consequences of the Khrushchev-Bulganin visit.

Philip Spratt, long in advance of this visit, wrote:

"... Nehru has never seen communist politics from the inside; probably he has seldom bothered to read the communist press. For at least 15 years past he has been so busy that his reading on many subjects must have suffered. He has obtained his information about communism from fellow-travelers of the 'new statesman' type, and from high-up communists, who will of course always have been on their best behavior. That he is really ignorant about what has been happening in the communist countries is almost proved by his amazing eulogy on Stalin in Parliament after the great tyrant's death."

But Khrushchev and Bulganin were not on their best behavior and they did not intend to be. Smiles were for Geneva; in India, they cursed in good, old-fashioned Russian style. They used India as a platform on which to reopen the cold war. Their attack was not only upon the United States, which was bad enough, but on Great Britain, which was worse, because Nehru is anxious to remain in the British Commonwealth and to have the good-will of the British government and people. The Russians did not give any consideration to Nehru's problems; they hit his policies down as though he were a minor Mao Tse-Tung. In fact, they never dared treat Mao as viciously as they have Nehru.

Some of the pro-Nehru Americans make the point that in his anxiety, Nehru would have turned toward the United States, had not John Foster Dulles spoken favorably of the Portuguese in Goa. That appears to me to be nonsense because any statesman in a country that is not altogether totalitarian has to give consideration to indigenous public opinion and Nehru has said and done too much for nearly 30 years to make a sharp turn in the opposite direction. That is why the Russians have taken him for granted. They counted on the popular support which Nehru had organized for them."

Kitchen Dangerous Place Around Home

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

The most dangerous room in the house is the kitchen.

Things like turning the handles of cooking pots parallel with the back of the stove and wiping any grease or water spilled on the floor immediately are common sense safety habits.

But there are other practices for both you and your children which aren't as well known and which might well prevent a serious injury or even death:

Hot Grease

Spattering hot grease causes many burns. Since water makes grease "spit," be careful that none gets into a frying pan or deep fat fryer while cooking.

The temperature of grease must be controlled both for cooking and safety and the best way to do this is with a thermometer. If that isn't possible, drop a small piece of bread into the fat. When the fat toasts the bread to a golden brown in 10 seconds, it's ready for deep frying.

You can prevent fat from catching fire by filling the kettle to no more than four inches from the top. If it does ignite, turn out the flame immediately and with a long fork, place the cover over the flaming pan.

Grease Fire

If a grease fire starts in the broiler, throw a handful of ordinary salt or baking soda on it. Never use water on a grease fire.

When you light a gas oven, light the match first, then stand to one side and place the match to the oven burner.

As for the gas stove, remember a correctly adjusted flame has a blue inner cone. The presence of a yellow flame indicates the burner needs adjusting.

To protect your youngster from burns, start training him while he is young.

Say, "hot," and let him touch something just warm enough to give him a start. Also, you can warn him, by touching something with your hand and immediately pulling it away exclaiming, "Ow, it's hot." Or you can try pulling him away from the stove or a hot pan exclaiming "hot."

Spank Him

If none of these ideas work, maybe you'd better give him a spanking while repeating the word "hot" whenever he gets too near to something which might burn him.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Interested Reader: Is multiple sclerosis inherited?

Answer: There is sometimes a tendency for several cases of multiple sclerosis to occur in the same family. However, it is not usually hereditary.

New Officers Are Installed By BPO Does

Mrs. Leo Fisher, president, presided over the regular meeting of the B.P.O. Does held in the Elks Lodge room and which also included installation of new officers and was opened according to the ritual with twenty-six members in attendance.

The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Samuel Douds, and the treasurer, Mrs. Robert Ferguson, also gave her report. Reports of all standing committees were given which included the helping of a family at Christmas given by Mrs. Charles James.

A special report was given by Mrs. Charles Funk, chairman of the Auditing Committee.

The president introduced the installing officer, Mrs. Heber Roe, who was in charge of the ceremony and those installed were: Mrs. Darrell Williams, president; Mrs. Charles James, first counselor; Mrs. Charles Mallow, senior counselor; Mrs. Paul Anderson, junior counselor; Mrs. Thomas Sever, secretary; Mrs. Robert Ferguson, treasurer; Mrs. Tom Murray, inner guard; Miss Marian Osborn, conductor and Mrs. Leo Fisher, trustee for three years.

Mrs. C. S. Kelley, a trustee presented the past president's pin to the retiring president, Mrs. Fisher, who responded graciously.

The president elect, Mrs. Williams, appointed her assisting officers who were also installed.

During the social hour following a buffet supper was served from a beautifully appointed table which was presided over by Mrs. Charles Funk, chairman of the hostess committee who was assisted by Mrs. Andre Metais, Mrs. Charles Funk and Mrs. R. L. Wilhelm.

Garden Club Plans Meeting For Friday

An interesting meeting is being planned for members and guests of the Fayette Garden Club, Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Earl P. Grimm.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Donald R. Murdock will use as her topic for a discussion on "The Art of Bird Watching".

Mrs. Grimm will have as assisting hostesses, Mrs. John Case, Mrs. Henry Engle, Mrs. W. R. Hook, Mrs. Arthur Finley and Miss Fannie McLean.

Sorority Holds Regular Meeting

The first business meeting of Beta Iota Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority was held Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Jean Ann Boylan.

Mrs. Richard Smith, president, called the meeting to order, and following the usual reports, a lengthy discussion was held on the State Council meeting which is to be held in Zanesville, January 22.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Roger Grimm were chosen as delegates, to attend this meeting and Miss Madeline Denen and Miss Jean Ann Boylan, as alternates.

It was decided to make a contribution to the March of Dimes, and following the reading of the Constitution of the chapter a discussion was held and the revision was accepted.

Mrs. Clyde McCray was program leader and used as her subject for a most interesting discussion, "Bargain Buying" which proved to be most timely at this time of the year.

At the close of Mrs. McCray's talk, tempting refreshments were served by the hostess.

Newest Ailment Said Freewayitis

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A new ailment has been diagnosed for the Los Angeles population—freewayitis. The Police Dept. says the disease, common to motorists using the extensive freeway system, is a combination of nervous indigestion and claustrophobia. It's likely to reach epidemic proportions during peak traffic hours.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Young and Miss Lillie Henkle have returned from a three-weeks motoring trip to Florida. Enroute they visited briefly with Dr. and Mrs. George Sheets and family in Kingsport, Tennessee, and after touring both the east and west coasts of Florida, they spent two weeks at Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Beatty and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haigler are home after a vacation spent in Acapulco, Mexico.

Miss Hazel Engle returned Tuesday to her studies at Maryville College, Maryville, Tennessee, after a Christmas vacation spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Engle. Mr. Harold Crane of Summerville, New Jersey, also a student at Maryville College, was a weekend guest at the Engle home, and they motored back to the college with college mates from Cleveland.

Garden Club Holds Meeting

The Washington Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Paul Brunner, Wednesday Jan. 5th for their January meeting.

The president, Mrs. Brunner, opened the meeting by reading a poem, "Answer to a Child's question".

The members then either read a poem about birds or exhibited a picture of a bird for their monthly exhibitions. Roll call was taken and twelve members answered by naming a bird that she has seen in her garden lately.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were given and approved.

Mrs. Ed Hidy reported that a Christmas plant was taken to William Rest Home a few days before Christmas.

The membership drive was further discussed.

The White Elephant Sale was postponed until the February meeting.

It was reported by Mrs. Brunner that the sales tax stamps were sent in by Mrs. Orville Hurtt and a fairly large return was expected.

Members were reminded of the Valentine exchange and to a home-made container for flowers for the February meeting. Either a speaker or movies on flower arranging will be the attraction.

Mrs. Hidy opened a group discussion on winter care for birds. Members and guests participated. Mrs. Paul Brunner showed slides on the seven famous gardens: Cypress Pool, Natchez, Mississippi; Bellingrath Gardens, Mobile, Alabama; Cypress Gardens, Winterhaven, Fla.; Melrose Gardens, Natchez, Miss.; Cypress Gardens, Charleston, S. C.; Municipal Gardens (Iris beds) St. Louis, Mo.; Lambert Gardens, Portland, Oregon. Also slides of common trees, birch, red bark Basswood, poplar lombardy, white ash, Bur oak, Hackberry, Elm, Hickory, Locust and Red Maple.

Flowering trees mentioned were: Joshua tree, member of the yucca family that thrives in the deserts of southwestern United States.

Judas tree more commonly called the redbud, no other tree is more desirable for ornamental planting and is found in the eastern half of the United States.

The flowering dogwood is probably the best known small tree in the tree forests of the eastern half of our country.

Magnolia blooms in early spring are beautiful showy flowers. These bell-shaped flowers are rose-red in color.

Catalpa produces attractive flowers, beautiful leaves and unique fruit.

Sumac. The sumacs comprise a large number of trees and shrubs.

The staghorn sumac is a small tree with a broad flat-topped crown.

Madrona tree is a native of north-east United States. It is a tall heavily branched tree growing to a height of one hundred and twenty-five feet. When the tree is in bloom we see dense clusters of small whitish yellow flowers, later bright orange berry-like fruits appear.

Mrs. John Callender and Mrs.

Daisy Moffet were included as guests.

Mrs. Thomas Martschinsky assisted Mrs. Paul Brunner in serving refreshments.

Clooney Expecting

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Singer Rosemary Clooney and actor Joe Ferrer announced yesterday that they are expecting their second child in late summer. Ferrer and his wife have a son, 11 months old.

At 100, She's Still 'Mean And Ornerly'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Granny Burks says she's 100 years old and just as "mean and ornerly as ever." At her birthday party Tuesday, Granny, whose first name, Virginia, is seldom used, gave her recipe for long life:

"Plenty of black-eyed peas, turnip greens, salt pork, corn pone, whiskey and snuff."

Garden Club Plans Meeting For Friday

An interesting meeting is being planned for members and guests of the Fayette Garden Club, Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Earl P. Grimm.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Donald R. Murdock will use as her topic for a discussion on "The Art of Bird Watching".

Mrs. Grimm will have as assisting hostesses, Mrs. John Case, Mrs. Henry Engle, Mrs. W. R. Hook, Mrs. Arthur Finley and Miss Fannie McLean.

Sorority Holds Regular Meeting

The first business meeting of Beta Iota Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority was held Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Jean Ann Boylan.

Mrs. Richard Smith, president, called the meeting to order, and following the usual reports, a lengthy discussion was held on the State Council meeting which is to be held in Zanesville, January 22.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Roger Grimm were chosen as delegates, to attend this meeting and Miss Madeline Denen and Miss Jean Ann Boylan, as alternates.

It was decided to make a contribution to the March of Dimes, and following the reading of the Constitution of the chapter a discussion was held and the revision was accepted.

Mrs. Clyde McCray was program leader and used as her subject for a most interesting discussion, "Bargain Buying" which proved to be most timely at this time of the year.

At the close of Mrs. McCray's talk, tempting refreshments were served by the hostess.

Newest Ailment Said Freewayitis

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A new ailment has been diagnosed for the Los Angeles population—freewayitis. The Police Dept. says the disease, common to motorists using the extensive freeway system, is a combination of nervous indigestion and claustrophobia. It's likely to reach epidemic proportions during peak traffic hours.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Young and Miss Lillie Henkle have returned from a three-weeks motoring trip to Florida. Enroute they visited briefly with Dr. and Mrs. George Sheets and family in Kingsport, Tennessee, and after touring both the east and west coasts of Florida, they spent two weeks at Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Beatty and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haigler are home after a vacation spent in Acapulco, Mexico.

Miss Hazel Engle returned Tuesday to her studies at Maryville College, Maryville, Tennessee, after a Christmas vacation spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Engle. Mr. Harold Crane of Summerville, New Jersey, also a student at Maryville College, was a weekend guest at the Engle home, and they motored back to the college with college mates from Cleveland.

Garden Club Holds Meeting

The Washington Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Paul Brunner, Wednesday Jan. 5th for their January meeting.

The president, Mrs. Brunner, opened the meeting by reading a poem, "Answer to a Child's question".

The members then either read a poem about birds or exhibited a picture of a bird for their monthly exhibitions. Roll call was taken and twelve members answered by naming a bird that she has seen in her garden lately.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were given and approved. Mrs. Ed Hidy reported that a Christmas plant was taken to Williamson Rest Home a few days before Christmas.

The membership drive was further discussed.

The White Elephant Sale was postponed until the February meeting.

It was reported by Mrs. Brunner that the sales tax stamps were sent in by Mrs. Orville Hurr and a fairly large return was expected.

Members were reminded of the Valentine exchange and to a home-made container for flowers for the February meeting. Either a speaker or movies on flower arranging will be the attraction.

Mrs. Hidy opened a group discussion on winter care for birds. Members and guests participated. Mrs. Paul Brunner showed slides on the seven famous gardens: Cypress Pool, Natchez, Mississippi; Bellingrath Gardens, Mobile, Alabama; Cypress Gardens, Winterhaven, Fla.; Melrose Gardens, Natchez, Miss.; Cypress Gardens, Charleston, S. C.; Municipal Gardens (Iris beds) St. Louis, Mo.; Lambert Gardens, Portland, Oregon. Also slides of common trees, birch, red bark Basswood, poplar lombardy, white ash, Bur oak, Hackberry, Elm, Hickory, Locust and red Maple.

Flowering trees mentioned were: Joshua tree, member of the yucca family that thrives in the deserts of southwestern United States.

Judas tree more commonly called the redbud, no other tree is more desirable for ornamental planting and is found in the eastern half of the United States.

The flowering dogwood is probably the best known small tree in the tree forests of the eastern half of our country.

Magnolia blooms in early spring are beautiful showy flowers. These bell-shaped flowers are rose-red in color.

Catalpa produces attractive flowers, beautiful leaves and unique fruit.

Sumac. The sumacs comprise a large number of trees and shrubs.

The staghorn sumac is a small tree with a broad flat-topped crown.

Madrona tree is a native of northeast United States. It is a tall heavily branched tree growing to a height of one hundred and twenty-five feet. When the tree is in bloom we see dense clusters of small whitish yellow flowers, later bright orange berry-like fruits appear.

Mrs. John Callender and Mrs.

Daisy Moffet were included as guests.

Mrs. Thomas Martischinsky assisted Mrs. Paul Brunner in serving refreshments.

Clooney Expecting

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Singer Rosemary Clooney and actor Joe Ferrer announced yesterday that they are expecting their second child in late summer. Ferrer and his wife have a son, 11 months old.

At 100, She's Still 'Mean And Ornerly'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Granny Burks says she's 100 years old and just as "mean and ornerly as ever." At her birthday party Tuesday Granny, whose first name, Virginia, is seldom used, gave her recipe for long life:

"Plenty of black-eyed peas, turnip greens, salt pork, corn pone, whiskey and snuff."

Jr. Music Clubs Are Entertained By Guest Artist

Three groups of clubs made up of children sponsored by Cecilians which are the Gay Notes, Junior Cecilians and Sharp Juniors, met in Fellowship Hall at Grace Methodist Church after school.

Mrs. Rolla Hill of Columbus, was the guest musician, and entertained the young members with a forty-five minute presentation of piano selections.

Mrs. Hill announced her own numbers and interspersed them with explanations both in the classical and in those adapted to young students.

She divided her group of beautifully rendered compositions into groups by four composers. The first group was composed of two Bach numbers, "Bourne," "Solvegretto," Second group by Chopin included two preludes "Fantasy Impromptu," "Berceuse in D Flat" (Cradle Song); Third group included beginners numbers, "Singing Blues," by Hobst; "Morning Sunrise," by Frost; "Two Children's Pieces," by Bartok, two numbers by MacDowell, "From a Wandering Iceberg," and "Stamping Dance;" The fourth group by Debussy included "Le Petit Negre" and "Fireworks."

At the close of the program, Mrs. Hill was presented with a lovely gift from the three groups.

Later, punch and cookies, was served from a lace covered table, with Mrs. McKinley Kirk, presiding over the punch bowl.

Hostesses for the lovely event were leaders of the three groups, Mrs. Edmond Woodmansee, Mrs. Billie Wilson, Mrs. John E. Rhoads, Mrs. Charles Sheridan, Mrs. Edward Cobb, Mrs. Austin Frederick, Mrs. Harford Hankins, Jr., Mrs. Andrew Sparks, Mrs. O. W. Woodyard, Mrs. Edwin Buck, Mrs. B. P. Hummel, Mrs. Weldon Kaufman and Mrs. Otis B. Core.

Garden Club Council Meets, Discusses Projects

A meeting of the Garden Club President's Council was held in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

Mrs. Ray Shoemaker, contact chairman for Fayette County presided over the meeting during which many important future events were discussed by representatives from the nine clubs in the county, led by Mrs. Shoemaker. The secretary, Mrs. Herbert Rothrock, gave her report, and Mrs. Shoemaker read a letter describing the Central Ohio Flower Show and Theater Tour to be held in New York City beginning March 12.

Rev. Swengel Guest Speaker At Lioness Club

The regular dinner meeting of the Lioness Club at the Washington Country Club, was highlighted with showing of colored slides by Rev. Clinton W. Swengel of interesting places he visited in a European tour the past summer.

Table decorations were carried out in themes symbolic of England, France, Germany and Switzerland, and to add to the clever mementoes of each of these countries the flags of all nations were prominently displayed.

Preceding the dinner hour the singing of America, the Salute to the Flag was led by the president, Mrs. Charles Reinke and the invocation was given by Mrs. Robert M. Meriweather.

During the business session later, Mrs. Elmer Reed, secretary, gave her report and also read correspondence and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. James McCoy.

A report of eye cases taken to Columbus was reported by the transportation chairman, Mrs. Ralph Bray, and the life history was clearly given by Mrs. John Richards.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Richard Gillen, program chairman, who introduced Rev. Swengel, who narrated the pictures shown, and explained in his narration he especially wanted to relate the tensions and sociological problems as he saw them in the countries through which he traveled, which were France, England, Germany, Switzerland, and the Scandinavian countries.

The singing of "God Bless America" was a fitting close to the program and Mrs. Robert M. Meriweather led in prayer.

The committee for the meeting was composed of Mrs. Richard Gillen, chairman, Mrs. Harry Thraillkill, Mrs. Dale Smith and Mrs. Robert M. Meriweather.

Mr. and Mrs. David H. Barchet were included as guests.

Burnetts Hosts At Meeting Of Class Members

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burnett were hosts for the regular meeting of the Philathea Class of First Baptist Church for the regular January meeting.

The meeting was opened with prayer led by Rev. Norman Renn, and Mrs. Dwight Coffman was in charge of the devotional period.

Mr. John Todd, president, conducted the business session during which Mrs. Richard Ware read the minutes of the last meeting and Mr. Curt Le Guire gave the financial report.

Following the discussions of projects of the class the meeting was adjourned and during the social hour seasonal refreshments were served by Mrs. Burnett.

Circle Members Hold Meeting At Wilson Home

The January meeting of WSCS Church was held at the home of the leader, Mrs. Samuel Wilson with Mrs. James Stitt and Mrs. Rodman Scott as hostesses.

Mrs. Wilson opened the meeting and Mrs. Leonard Jones led in the devotions.

The usual reports were heard and accepted and an auction of home baked articles by the eleven members present was held which netted a tidy sum to the treasury. The remainder of the evening was devoted to the counting of sales tax stamps which is also a money making project.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Gatewood.

Regular Meeting Of Gradale At Noble Home

Mrs. James T. Perrill, president, presided over the regular meeting of Gradale Sorority held at the home of Mrs. Loren Noble in Bloomingburg.

The meeting was opened with the repeating of the Gradale Invocation and the singing of the Gradale Song by the group.

The devotions led by Mrs. James Westendorf were followed with the reports of the tribune and the quaestor both of which were approved.

Reports on visits to Rest Homes in this city during the past month were given by Mrs. Robert Boyd and Mrs. Willis Coffman, and the committee appointed for the month of January is Mrs. James O. Garlinger, Mrs. Ralph Hyer and Mrs. James Hagler.

Mrs. Hugh Rea, chairman of the committee, announced a dance which has been planned for February 18 at the Washington Country Club.

The business session was closed with the Friendship Circle, and the program in charge of Mrs. Ralph Douglass and Mrs. Robert Boyd consisted of a most interesting film on "Cancer Research" shown by Mrs. Charles Griffiths.

During the social hour tempting refreshments were served by the social committee composed of Mrs. John L. Sager, Jr., Mrs. James Stitt and Mrs. Ralph Hyer.

A special train will leave Columbus Monday, March 12, at 8:25 A. M., and will arrive in North Philadelphia at 9:11 P. M., and busses will take the group to the Penn Sherwood Hotel.

Tuesday at 9 A. M., a sightseeing tour of the city which includes the Betsy Ross House and Independence Hall, then direct to Convention Hall where the Flower Show will be held.

At 5 P. M., the train leaves for New York City and arrives at 6:36 P. M. Private busses will transfer the group to Belmont Plaza Hotel.

Wednesday at 9 A. M., a ride on the subway and a transfer to the New York Flower Show, which will be held in the large building formerly occupied by the John Wannamaker Company.

In the evening a ticket to a famous Broadway show will be included and Thursday, a visit to Radio City will be provided with time to shop after 1:30 P. M.

Friday, a trip to the United Nations Building with guides provided for a tour of this fabulous building and time will be at the disposal of the group until the train leaves for the return trip.

It is hoped that several persons from Fayette County would be interested in this five day tour and reservations could be made in a group, which will be explained by the presidents of the clubs to the members and reservations must be in by March 5.

The date for the spring County meeting of Garden Clubs was discussed and it was decided to leave the date at the disposal of the Regional Director, Mrs. Warren, of Wellston, for sometime in April.

It was reported that some time ago, that the Fayette Health Board had suggested that assistance was needed to landscape the grounds at Mt. Logan Sanatorium, at Chillicothe, and following the view of blueprints it was decided that each club president would present the project to her members which if considered favorably, a cash donation from the nine clubs could make it a county-wide project, most worth while.

During the business session later, Mrs. Elmer Reed, secretary, gave her report and also read correspondence and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. James McCoy.

A report of eye cases taken to Columbus was reported by the transportation chairman, Mrs. Ralph Bray, and the life history was cleverly given by Mrs. John Richards.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Richard Gillen, program chairman, who introduced Rev. Swengel, who narrated the pictures shown, and explained in his narration he especially wanted to relate the tensions and sociological problems as he saw them in the countries through which he traveled, which were France, England, Germany, Switzerland, and the Scandinavian countries.

The singing of "God Bless America" was a fitting close to the program and Mrs. Robert M. Meriweather led in prayer.

The committee for the meeting was composed of Mrs. Richard Gillen, chairman, Mrs. Harry Thraikill, Mrs. Dale Smith and Mrs. Robert M. Meriweather.

Mr. and Mrs. David H. Barchet were included as guests.

Burnetts Hosts At Meeting Of Class Members

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burnett were hosts for the regular meeting of the Philathea Class of First Baptist Church for the regular January meeting.

The meeting was opened with prayer led by Rev. Norman Renn, and Mrs. Dwight Coffman was in charge of the devotional period.

Mr. John Todd, president, conducted the business session during which Mrs. Richard Ware read the minutes of the last meeting and Mr. Curt Le Guire gave the financial report.

Following the discussions of projects of the class the meeting was adjourned and during the social hour seasonal refreshments were served by Mrs. Burnett.

Circle Members Hold Meeting At Wilson Home

The January meeting of WSCS Church was held at the home of the leader, Mrs. Samuel Wilson with Mrs. James Stitt and Mrs. Rodman Scott as hostesses.

Mrs. Wilson opened the meeting and Mrs. Leonard Jones led in the devotions.

The usual reports were heard and accepted and an auction of home baked articles by the eleven members present was held which netted a tidy sum to the treasury.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to the counting of sales tax stamps which is also a money making project.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Gatewood.

Regular Meeting Of Gradale At Noble Home

Mrs. James T. Perrill, president, presided over the regular meeting of Gradale Sorority held at the home of Mrs. Loren Noble in Bloomingburg.

The meeting was opened with the repeating of the Gradale Invocation and the singing of the Gradale Song by the group.

The devotions led by Mrs. James Westendorf were followed with the reports of the tribune and the quæstor both of which were approved.

Reports on visits to Rest Homes in this city during the past month were given by Mrs. Robert Boyd and Mrs. Willis Coffman, and the committee appointed for the month of January is Mrs. James O. Garinger, Mrs. Ralph Hyer and Mrs. James Hagler.

Mrs. Hugh Rea, chairman of the committee, announced a dance which has been planned for February 18 at the Washington Country Club.

The business session was closed with the Friendship Circle, and the program in charge of Mrs. Ralph Douglass and Mrs. Robert Boyd consisted of a most interesting film on "Cancer Research" shown by Mrs. Charles Griffiths.

During the social hour tempting refreshments were served by the social committee composed of Mrs. John L. Sager, Jr., Mrs. James Stitt and Mrs. Ralph Hyer.

Final Markdowns

In this big CLEARANCE you'll find Fall and Winter COATS and DRESSES have been drastically reduced... in line with our policy of carrying no garments over into another season if low prices will clear them out.

18x27 RUG SAMPLES
1.50

These samples are made of the Wilton novelty weaves so very popular now, carpet that sells from 8.95 to 14.95 a yard. These samples are very much in demand, to use in front of televisions, to protect carpets.

27x54 SAMPLE RUGS
5.95

These are all in new patterns that were made to sell for 9.95 to 13.95. In Axminster and Wiltons. These patterns have been discontinued by the manufacturers so we cannot order more from the samples.

ODDS and ENDS in Women's
STREET DRESSES - 1.97

Here is quite a group of women's street dresses at a ridiculously low price... cheaper than you can buy a house dress. Naturally the quantity is limited so get here early if interested.

2.95 and 3.95 WOMEN'S BLOUSES
1.00

These are real "bargains" as they are mostly one-of-a-kind blouses in cotton, rayon and nylon. Broken lots that we want to close out quickly.

KID and FABRIC GLOVES
HALF PRICE

These are one-of-a-kind and broken lots of desirable styles that we want to close out, hence this low price.

A BIG GROUP OF WOMEN'S SKIRTS
HALF PRICE

Included in this group are skirts that were priced regularly at 3.95 to 8.95. The sizes range from 22 to 30 waist bands. Every one of these is a good "buy."

DISCONTINUED PATTERNS IN FLOOR TILE - HALF PRICE

These are in linoleum and plastic 9" tiles, and every pattern is a good one. Regularly 18c each.

Very Special!

TUFTED BATH SETS
1.89

These are exceptional values and a very special purchase direct from the manufacturer for this event. Cotton chenille, tufted in pastel shades. Bath mat and seat cover.

1.35-1.50 Extra Special NYLON HOSE
1.00

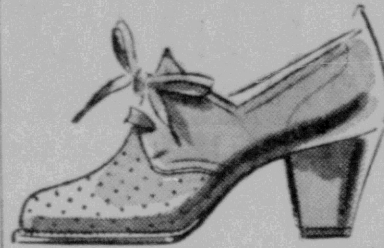

These are REAL BARGAINS, as they are all perfect, first quality hose in a famous make. We are permitted to run a special sale on these hose if we do not advertise the trade name. In previous sales we have sold hundreds of pairs and the buyers come back for more. New Spring shades, 60 gauge, 15 denier and 45 gauge, 30 denier (service weight) Dark or matching seams. Also a limited quantity of seamless hose in Spring shades. These are all NEW, not leftovers or odds and ends.

Swine Breeders Meet To Discuss Price Situation, Plan Program

A falling hog market for the last year was given as cause for the largest attendance ever at the annual meeting of the Fayette County Swine Breeders and Feeders Association.

There were 55 county farmers at the meeting, held in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

The evening's activity included election of officers for the year, review of the past year's program, a panel discussion on the hog situation and adoption of a program for the year.

Taking part in the panel discussion, which lasted for 1½ hours, were Howard Davidson, hog salesman of the Eastern Order Buying Co., Columbus, moderator; Clarence Wallace, Kroger Co., Ned Abbot, veterinarian; Delbert Morris, hog producer and Herbert Barnes, Ohio State University swine specialist.

In summing up the discussion Davidson listed the following six recommendations for improving the hog situation and points of interest brought out in discussion:

(1) Change the type of hog to get more lean meat.

(2) More accurate information should be given to the hog producer relative to production, marketing, costs, etc.

(3) A lot more should be done on research in the field of disease, nutrition and marketing.

(4) Advertising of pork as one of our best foods should be increased.

(5) Profits taken out of the hog industry have not been equitable. Farmers are receiving only 37 cents out of the consumer's dollar at the present time.

(6) The first six months of this year hold prospects of relatively large supplies.

A 13-POINT PROGRAM for the year was adopted, on the suggestion of the organization's board of directors. The members agreed to:

(1) Continue the association's swine tours, one in and one out of the county, with the suggestion that one be held in the winter.

(2) Promote the Commercial Swine Show for 1956 with emphasis on greater attendance and new features to give greater educational value.

(3) Promote the Ohio Swine Improvement Program so that Fayette County may continue to be the leading county in providing litters to feeding station and promote attendance at the annual meeting.

(4) Plan attendance at the annual meetings of the Ohio Swine Improvement Association and Purebred Breeder's Association in December, the Swine Institute, etc.

(5) Promote 4-H pig club and FFA work in the county. Get more 4-H and FFA members to exhibit at the State Fair.

(6-7) Hold Swine Banquet and Swine Institute in 1956.

(8) Encourage more hog raisers to participate in the activities of the association.

(9) Encourage the consumption of pork through work with local meat retailers and processors.

(10) Support and promote the Ohio Spring Barrow Show.

(11) Investigate the possibility of improved selling and grading, including rail grading.

(12) Make an effort to secure a floor on hog prices. The farmer is entitled to a fair wage per hour for his labor.

(13) Contact national representatives in Congress on the importation of pork.

JOE FISHER, CHAIRMAN of the committee, led off the meeting with secretary C. E. Rhoads reviewing the 1955 activities of the group.

Rhoads pointed out that they had sponsored two swine tours, one in the county and one out; held a commercial swine show; had promoted interest in the Ohio Swine Improvement program to the extent that Fayette County hog producers had more litters nominated and entries made in the Ohio Swine Evaluation Station than any other county.

They promoted attendance at the various annual meetings of swine associations and had held a local swine institute and a swine banquet with an attendance of 190.

A large amount of effort had been devoted to the 4-H and FFA Pig Club work in the county and enrollment in the 4-H pig clubs was practically doubled for the year. The Junior Swine exhibit was the largest ever held at the county fair.

Work on the increased consumption of pork was still being carried through by the committee for the coming year.

ELECTED AS NEW OFFICERS were Harry Craig, president, George Smith, vice president and Larry Cleland, secretary-treasurer.

Two names were presented for directors in five townships with the one receiving highest number of votes being elected director and the other member being the alternate.

Directors elected were: Concord Township—Wilbur Neff, director, Lawrence Black, alternate.

Marion Township—Robert Rowland, director, Wilbur Rapp, alternate.

Madison Township—Homer Wilson, director, Leland Dorn, alternate.

Paint Township—Kenneth Miller, director, Larry Cleland, alternate.

Jasper Township—A. R. Rankin, director, Loren Green, alternate.

Both directors and alternates are eligible to attend the monthly directors' meetings.

The Ohio Spring Barrow Show will be held at the London Fairgrounds on Saturday, Feb. 25, it was announced. The banquet will be held on Friday, Feb. 24 and the "Carcass Show" will be Wednesday, Feb. 29 at the Youth Center on the State Fairgrounds. Mr. A. R. Rankin represents Fayette County on the Commercial Swine Association.

Refreshments of ham sandwiches and coffee were served at the close of the meeting.

Letters To Editor

Washington C. H., Ohio
Jan. 10, 1956

Editor
Record-Herald
Dear Sir:

Some time ago there was a mention in the Record Herald of blue eyed white pheasants. There was also the question raised of what had caused this. Perhaps your readers would like to know something about this and I will put it as clearly as possible.

As has been stated these pheasants are not albinos. Albino animals are devoid of all coloring matter. Being colorless, the eyes are pink because the blood veins show through the transparent iris.

Blue eyed white pheasants are so because of a mutation, which I will try to explain.

The cells of the body contain tiny structures known as genes. They carry within them inheritable characteristics that are passed on from generation to generation. It is they that determine size, form and color of an individual.

Biologists know that mutation does occur, they know what causes it but they don't know how.

What happens is that there is a sudden change in a gene, giving rise to a new character which is then transmitted to future generations. Thus, some descendants of blue eyed white pheasants will also be the same.

I have seen wild cream colored field mice with black eyes. This is also due to a mutation. There must be many more instances recorded on this subject.

Some biologists believe that evolution, instead of being a long slow process covering millions of years, took place rather abruptly through mutation. When I say "abruptly"

I mean biologically speaking. It takes a long time for a mutation to become established or to vanish, dependent upon its usefulness to the animal which has inherited it. Mutations sometimes have so hindered an animal that it is unable to survive and finally dies out.

One example of a mutation that survived is the feathers of birds. We know that birds developed from some form of reptile—probably one of the light leaping dinosaurs. Feathers are no more than modified scales. The first feathers probably were mutations.

The earliest bird looked like a small dinosaur that had sprouted a few feathers on his forearms. Feathers were found to be advanced tageous to small dinosaurs possibly trying to escape the flesh eaters by living in the trees. So, through time, feathers became modified and more efficient and our birds developed.

There is really no simple way of explaining mutation, but this may help some.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed)
Carolyn Murdock

Lowell Fess In Race Now

Reelection Sought
To State Senate

Lowell Fess of Yellow Springs today announced he would seek reelection to the Ohio Senate from fifth-sixth district that includes Ross, Highland, Clinton, Greene and Fayette Counties, and that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination at the May primary.

Lowell Fess

Fess announced his candidacy only a week after Ray Brandenburg, Washington C. H. farmer and businessman, had taken out his nominating petition for the same office.

Another Washington C. H. man, Reed M. Winegardner, as senatorial aspirations and is in the race for the Democratic nomination.

Fess, 60, now serving his second term in the upper house of the state Legislature, announced that he would seek the nomination in a letter to the chairmen of the Republican committees in each of the five counties in the district.

Fess has been active in Republican politics in Ohio and Greene County for the past 35 years, having served as mayor of Yellow Springs for three terms, on the Greene County Board of Elections, on the Greene County Republican Central and Executive Committee and four terms as a Representative from Greene County in the Legislature.

A widower, Fess has two children, Nancy 24 and Tommy 19. He is affiliated with the American Legion, Forty and Eight, Veterans

District Convention Of Legion May Be Here; Membership Increasing

Prospects for the district convention of the American Legion being held in Washington C. H. next June, today were growing brighter following the bid put in for the meeting by representatives of the Paul H. Hughey post at the winter conference in Chillicothe.

Four meetings a year are held in the district; three of them are called conferences (Fall, Winter and Spring) and the fourth is the annual district convention which takes the place of a Summer conference.

The bid for the convention in June was put in at the Winter conference just concluded in Chillicothe. The decision on where the convention will be held will be made at the Spring conference.

At the Winter conference from the Hughey post here were Bill Stoughton, the district vice commander; Francis Morgan, the district sergeant-at-arms; Paul Souther, district chemist of the Forty & Eight; Fred Dennison; Russell Whited, post vice commander; Eugene Ladrach, past post commander, and Father Richard J. Connelly, a former chaplain of the Department of Ohio of the Legion and the pastor of St. Colman's Catholic Church here.

THERE ARE three Legion posts in Chillicothe, but post 126 was host for this conference which brought together representatives of the Legion posts in eight south-central Ohio counties of Fayette, Adams, Ross, Highland, Pickaway, Pike, Lawrence and Scioto.

The theme of the conference, "Back To God," was pointed up by Father Connelly in his talk along lines adapted to the philosophy of war veterans, most of whom have a deeper concept of theology than others.

Reports were made by the heads of the committees assigned to the various Legion activities.

Stoughton reports on the membership sign-up that started last fall and is continuing into the winter. His report, on the district level, showed the posts in the district had signed up 4,198 members at the last pre-conference compilation.

of Foreign Wars; Fish and Game Association; Farm Forum; War Vets Republican Club; Masons; Eagles and Elks. He is a member of the Presbyterian Church.

tion of reports. This was short of the quota of 5,489, but it placed this district, with 76.4 percent sign-up, in fourth place among the 14 districts in the state.

STOUGHTON commented that his own post in Washington C. H. was one of several that had exceeded their quotas. The post here had a quota of 358 and, Stoughton said, there are now 379 names on the membership roll.

The membership report was considered evidence that interest in the American Legion is increasing. Stoughton said he had no definite explanation for the upswing in interest and membership in the Legion, but speculated that it might be "because the boys are getting a little older now and appreciate the importance of an organization of war veterans."

This trend was emphasized, he said, by the increasing number of post offices held by veterans of the second World War. This was viewed as an indication that veterans of the second World War are now getting old enough to assume responsibilities of post leadership and, at the same time, old enough to merit the confidence of the veterans of the first World War, who want to turn over to the younger men more of administration of the Legion program.

Columbus Area To Get CD Check

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Franklin County Civil Defense organization has authorized a federal survey of the Columbus metropolitan area's survival possibilities in event of atomic attack.

The group also ordered purchase of a mobile 200-bed hospital for disaster use. The local agency will pay $13,000 which will be matched by federal funds.

The survey to cost about $13,000 will get underway as soon as a contract is awarded by the Federal Civil Defense Administration to a consulting firm.

Wapak Doctor Fined In Theft

WAPAKONETA (AP)—A young chiropractor yesterday pleaded guilty to stealing money from the purses of his patients.

Dr. James H. Laubach, 26, who has offices near here at both St. Marys and New Bremen, told Judge Jacob T. Kownig:

"I don't know why I did it, I didn't need the money."

Police said Mrs. Marie Gilberg of New Bremen made an appointment with the doctor and took $25 in marked bills in her purse. Police said the money was found in Laubach's possession.

He pleaded guilty to petty larceny, was fined $100 and costs and given a suspended 30-day sentence.

Zoo Census Sheet Grabbed By Sheep

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The census of animals at Philadelphia Zoo came to an abrupt halt when census taker John Nestor lost his inventory sheet. He said he was counting barbery sheep when one of the animals grabbed the paper and ate it.

New State Education Board Slated To Move Cautiously

Editor's Note: Following is the first of two articles on Ohio's new state board of education and its first, pioneering activities.

By ART PARKS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Twenty-three total strangers held up their right hands last week, repeated the oath of office, and found themselves suddenly and collectively in complete charge of Ohio's multi-million-dollar public school program.

It was a moment for which the 21 men and two women were scarcely prepared.

Every step they took last week in the hours after the swearing-in ceremony was a pioneering one. So will every step they take in the next few months. And every step will be a cautious one lest the entire new state board of education fall flat on its face.

The chances for the board stubbing its collective toe are numerous as it tries to thread its way through the pitfalls which are bound to confront a big new board in a big new job.

Some of the members' bright and confident smiles wavered a little as the magnitude of the jobs they had taken on became apparent during the hours which followed the oath-taking.

And there was none who objected when their new president, Robert A. Manchester, a Youngstown lawyer, told them: "We are going to take things slow."

When board members took their oaths, the position of state director of education automatically ceased to exist and the board was cast adrift on an uncharted sea of governmental red tape.

So untutored in the ways of government were some of the members they didn't even know how to make out their expense accounts.

The board immediately did the only thing it could do. It rehired the lately deposed education director, R. M. Eymann, as state superintendent of public instruction. It also rehired his whole staff in the state department of education.

There probably will be some personnel changes later — there may even be a new superintendent of public instruction—but for the time being, at least, the rehiring put the state education system back in business.

Last week's was a somewhat rude and jolting beginning for a system which has been advocated for nearly a score of years.

Gallipolis Sewer 'Rental' Illegal

GALLIPOLIS (AP)—The Fourth District Court of Appeals yesterday upheld a lower court's ruling which blocked collection of the city's sewer "rental" charge, an advance assessment to help pay for a new sewage plant.

The court held that residents were paying for a service they didn't get.

Two Gallipolis residents brought action to stop collection of the charge under a city ordinance which added the 'rental' charges to water bills.

Voters in 1954 defeated a 10 to 1 margin a bond issue for a $1,200,000 sewage treatment plant. The city now dumps its waste into the Ohio River.

Church Poor Box Thief Arrested

NILES (AP)—An itinerant carnival worker accused of breaking into a poor box at St. Stephen's Roman Catholic Church here has been bound over to the Trumbull County grand jury under $500 bond.

Officers said James Sayers, 42, of Manistee, Mich., tripped an alarm when he opened the coin receptacle after breaking off the lock and was nabbed by two priests who held him for police.

political party platforms supported the state school board idea as far back as 1938, but when the proposal went to the electorate in 1939 as a constitutional amendment it was beaten.

The idea languished until the 1953 session of the General Assembly approved its submission again to the voters. In November of that year it carried by a 219,500-vote majority. But the amendment left the makeup of the board to the Legislature.

That laid the groundwork for one of the big battles of the 1955 legislative session.

Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche wanted a nine-member board appointed by the governor.

Rep. William L. Manahan (R-Defiance), chairman of the House Education Committee, wanted a nine-member elected board.

The Republican-controlled Senate thought the appellate court districts—in which members of a nine-member board would have campaigned—were too big and plumped for a 23-member board, one from each of the state's congressional districts.

So the next couple of years will be the proof of the pudding: Whether the electorate was wise in vesting school administration in a group of laymen and whether a 23-member board can move fast enough to do the job expected of it.

Fair Directors at Convention Now To Lay Framework for Event

The framework for next summer's Fayette County Fair is being put together in Columbus now during the two-day annual meeting of the Ohio Fair Managers Association Wednesday and Thursday.

Most of the 13 directors of the Fayette County Fair had made their plans to take in some of the meetings during the convention. It would be impossible to attend all of them because several are in session at the same time throughout the two days.

Since the personnel of the committees of the Fair Board here changes little from year to year, the directors usually arrange to go to the meetings concerned with their part in building the Fair.

On the program are conferences for the secretaries, the treasurers, livestock exhibits, superintendents, the speed committee members, junior fair managers and the heads of the agriculture and horticulture departments.

Some of the directors of the Fayette County Fair will participate in most of these; for, they have said many times that they always come away with some good ideas to use here after exchanging views with directors of other fairs.

ONE OF THE most important things the directors of the Fair here always get done at the convention is the booking of the Night Fair attractions and some special events. In this, the directors usually act as a board. The board almost always uses the rooms of one or two of the directors take in the Deshler-Hilton Hotel (where the convention is being held) for its headquarters and conferences on such questions before the shows are booked.

Many of the concessions also are signed up during the convention, but this is left largely in the hands of Frank E. Ellis, the secretary.

Many of the directors are accompanied by their wives and the convention planning have arranged special entertainment for them.

Directors of the Fair here who are expected to take in part of the convention and then go to the big banquet that brings it to a close

Thursday night are Ray Brandenburg, the president of the board, Ellis the secretary, Walter E. Solars, George A. Steen, John Sagar, Sam Marting, McKinley Kirk, H. H. Denton, Preston Dray, Mac Dews, Sr., Robert Owens and Walter Driesbach. Ralph Nisley, the other members of the board, seldom misses the conventions, but this year he is convalescing from an operation and said he would have to pass it up.

Four of the Fayette County directors went to Columbus Tuesday morning, a day ahead of the convention, to attend the annual meeting of the Ohio district of the United States Trotting Association. They were Kirk, a director in the association, Sagar, a member of the association and a licensed race judge and starter, and Ellis and Steen, members of the speed committee and representatives of the Fayette County Board, which holds a membership.

THEY ALL have a vote on questions that come before the association, including the selection of the Ohio Horse of the Year, the leading dash winner from Ohio and Ohio's leading harness race horse driver.

ation convention Thursday morning. Bitzer is the president of the State Board of Agriculture.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche is to extend the greetings of the state to the delegates.

Among the subjects to be discussed at the Wednesday sessions are "Competing for the Entertainment Dollar at the Fair;" "Cooperation of the County Commissioners with the County Fair" and "County Fair Legislation."

On Thursday there is to be a forum: "Meet the Press." It is to run from 1 until 1:30 P. M. After that there is to be a discussion of "How Can We Improve Ohio Fairs?"

The Myers Y. Cooper trophy for the 1955 Blue Ribbon Fair is to be awarded at the Thursday night banquet.

The Countess Maria Pulaski is to tell the gathering about "My Life as a Spy," a thrilling war story of courage and adventure as an espionage agent.

Sen. John W. Bricker is to discuss the Federal Government's Relation to the Farmer."

Times Square 'Ohio's Horse of Year'

John Sagar New Vice President Of Colt Circuit

Tuesday was a big day for Fayette County in the world of harness horse racing.

Times Square, a native of Fayette County, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kirk of Washington C. H. and trained and driven by McKinley Kirk of Washington C. H., was named "Ohio's Horse of Year" at the district meeting of the United States Trotting Association in Columbus and John Sagar of Washington C. H. and a director of the Fayette County Fair was elected vice president of the Ohio Colt Racing Association during the association's afternoon meeting in Columbus. The USTA meeting was held in the evening.

Times Square

Times Square, the 5-year-old pacer who has a record of 1:58.1, had virtually no competition for the honor. The son of Victory Song-Pauline Abbe, rolled up 601 points on a 5-3-1 basis to just about swamp the opposition. Buckeye, two-year-old pacer owned by Saunders Mills Stable of Toledo was second with 167 points, and last year's winner, Lady Dunn, owned by Carl School of Cincinnati, was third with 161.

Times Square, bred by McKinley Kirk and purchased at auction by his nephew for $1,200 in 1951, was accorded 109 first place votes. Buckeye had 15 and Lady Dunn 11. Fifty-four horses received votes from Ohio USTA members.

Times Square, with McKinley Kirk at the reins, registered five two-minute miles in 1955 and wound up the season by winning the final heat of the $75,000 American pacing classic at Hollywood Park, Inglewood, Calif.

He paced to a record 1:58 1-5 earlier in the year, and thus shared with Wilmington's Star the title of the fastest horse ever bred in Ohio. Times Square won 13 of his 25 starts this season and had four seconds and three thirds, to earn $41,368, lifting his lifetime bankroll to 176,560.

Owner Kirk received a plaque at the banquet. Other plaques went to Wayne (Curly) Smart of Delaware as Ohio's leading money winning driver with $147,146, and to Howard Beissinger of Hamilton, the state's leading race winning driver with 114 wins. Beissinger is out of the state and was unable to attend the banquet.

SAGAR, a director of the Fayette County Fair and a licensed presiding judge and starter for harness horse races, presided at the Ohio Colt Racing Association meeting.

Dr. H. K. Bailey of Wilmington was elected president of the association, but was absent. Mrs. Lois Slanker of New Carlisle was named the secretary.

The Ohio Colt Racing Association is unique in the harness horse racing sport and has grown from a small and shaky circuit to one that covers a large segment of western Ohio and takes in 11 county fairs and commercial race meetings.

It has long been the custom for members of the Association to program four stakes races—for 2-year-old pacers, 2-year-old trotters, 3-year-old pacers and 3-year-old trotters—with purses of $1,000 each.

These OCRA stakes, almost without exception, attract some of the best colts (and fillies) racing in the area during the summer. Many of the top horses racing on the big time started on Ohio tracks in OCRA races.

Barron Collects On-Day Tourney

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Herman Barron headed South for a series of golf tournaments in Latin American countries today after pocketing $1,200 for one day's play in the Bayshore pro-amateur.

A club pro at White Plains, N.Y., Barron defeated such "name" golfers as Sam Snead and Ed Furgo yesterday.

The New Yorker carded a 32-35-67 and won the strictly pro division by two strokes over Pete Cooper of Tampa, who had a 34-35. Cooper picked up $900.

Warriors Fatten Pro Division Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks lost 109-107 in overtime to Philadelphia last night as the Warriors fattened their eastern division lead in the National Basketball Assn.

By winning, the Warriors went 3 games up on the Boston Celtics, who lost to the Fort Wayne Pistons 105-89 despite a game second half rally. Fort Wayne took a 3 game lead in the western division over idle Rochester.

In the only other action, Minneapolis defeated Syracuse 90-79.

NCAA Rules Panel Books Conference

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. rules committee goes into its annual wrestling match with the rule book here tomorrow, but the chairman, Fritz Crisler, doesn't anticipate much of a contest.

"By and large," said Michigan's athletic director, "most everyone seems satisfied with the rules as they are."

The committee has some 60 suggestions to consider.

Gillman Selects Pro Star Lineup

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sid Gillman has decided on his offensive lineup for the West against the East in Sunday's pro bowl game.

The Los Angeles Rams' coach has Harlon Hill of the Chicago Bears and Billy Wilson of San Francisco at ends; Lou Creekmur of Detroit and Bill Wightkin of Chicago at tackles; Duana Putnam of Los Angeles and Stan Jones of Chicago at guards; Dick Szymanski of Baltimore at center;

NCAA Rules Panel Books Conference

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. rules committee goes into its annual wrestling match with the rule book here tomorrow, but the chairman, Fritz Crisler, doesn't anticipate much of a contest.

"By and large," said Michigan's athletic director, "most everyone seems satisfied with the rules as they are."

The committee has some 60 suggestions to consider.

Gillman Selects Pro Star Lineup

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sid Gillman has decided on his offensive line-up for the West against the East in Sunday's pro bowl game.

The Los Angeles Rams' coach has Harlon Hill of the Chicago Bears and Billy Wilson of San Francisco at ends; Lou Creekmur of Detroit and Bill Wightkin of Chicago at tackles; Duana Putnam of Los Angeles and Stan Jones of Chicago at guards; Dick Szymanski of Baltimore at center;

Warriors Lose Despite Rally

Reserve Cagers Make Difference

A last half surge by Madison Mills' Warriors was as spectacular a performance as has been staged on the Madison Mills floor in years, but time ran out on them while they were still 10 points short of victory and they lost to the boys from South Solon by a score of 57 to 48.

The Madison Mills Varsity cagers could not get going and Coach Tolman Mills sent in smaller and faster boys from the Reserve squad to spice up the game—and from then on it was a different story.

At the end of the first half the Warriors were trailing 26-6 and at the half they were still far behind, 33-14. The situation looked hopeless to the Warrior fans.

But back from the intermission with some changes in strategy and in the lineup, the Warriors started racing all over the place. They shifted from a zone to a man-to-man defense to throttle the South Solon offense and at the same time stepped up their own attack.

In the last analysis, the South Solon outfit won the game from the free throw line. Each team connected for 16 field goals, but the visitors cashed in on 25 of their 39 charity tosses while the Warriors hit on 16 of their 36.

It was the seventh loss in nine games for the Warriors.

The Madison Mills Reserve, who have lost only two of their nine games, swamped the South Solon boys, 49 to 18, in the preliminary. Their losses were to the Reserves at Jeffersonville and New Holland.

On the Madison Mills Reserve team, and their scores, were: Deley 2, Clark 5, Dailey 4, Williams 2, Ford 5, Havens 2, McClary 19, Belt 10, King, Rowland and Conley.

The Madison Mills Juniors last week beat the Jeffersonville Tiger Cubs, 52 to 13.

Bevo Francis Still Rated Top Player

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Bevo Francis, who had the basketball world buzzing when he played for little Rio Grande College in Ohio, is still scoring points at a pretty good clip, and his coach says he's a better player.

Francis is averaging 23.4 points with the Boston Whirlwinds, who are touring the country with the Harlem Globetrotters, the Philadelphia Sphas and the Washington, D. C., Generals.

His current average is nowhere near the 50.1 points he averaged at Rio Grande in the 1952-53 and 1953-54 seasons, but as Boston Coach Sid Goldberg said in Salt Lake City yesterday:

"His competition against the play for pay boys is much stiffer than at Rio Grande, where he played against many junior college teams. And his whirlwind average has been built up during a back-breaking schedule of more than 300 games in the past two years."

"Bevo was clumsy in college. His 6-9 height and tremendous shooting eye enabled him to score a lot of points, but he was a mediocre defensive player and he lacked floor finesse."

"Now, in addition to being the team's top scorer, he also leads in rebounds."

Bevo, who is 23, is willing to learn. He said:

"I plan to play basketball for a living for several years. And if I want to stay in the game I've got to know everything there is about it."

Mt. Sterling Dumps Bulldogs

New Holland Cagers Edged Out, 47-45

Mt. Sterling took advantage of New Holland's second-period lapse Tuesday night to grab a lead that the Bulldogs never did manage to overcome, despite a game second-half fight.

Final score put the Mt. Sterling boys on top by a slim 47-45 margin.

Mt. Sterling, playing on its home court, took off to a 2-point lead at the end of the first period. By the end of the second period, they had pushed ahead to a 30-18 advantage.

New Holland outscored Mt. Sterling throughout the second half, scoring five points in the last three minutes despite Mt. Sterling's stall tactics. With 15 seconds to go, the Bulldogs got the ball away from the Mt. Sterling boys, but couldn't score the vital tying bucket.

Glen Large led the way for New Holland with 18 points. Mt. Sterling's Phillips was high for the winners with 16.

The defeat, New Holland's third in a row, dropped the Pickaway County team's won-and-lost record to six and six.

The Bulldog reserves, however, stretched their string of wins to 11 straight as they downed the Mt. Sterling reserves, 32-21.

John Lininger was top scorer for the winners with 16. Others in the game were Jones (8), Dunkle (4), Speakman (3) and Yeoman and Free.

Satterfield Due To Test Holman

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Satterfield, one of boxing's most lethal punchers, aims for his 31st knockout victory tonight against another slugging heavyweight, Johnny Holman.

Satterfield, 32, will be spotting from 15 to 20 pounds the nationally televised 10 rounder at 10 p. m. EST. But Belting Bob twice clobbered Holman in 1954 and also has taken care of such other big boys as Nino Valdes and Bob Baker in compiling a 40-19-3 record.

Although Satterfield apparently can flatten any man he can hit, he has a knockout allergy himself. He has stars 11 times.

"IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating?

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little PASTETEEH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, party taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get PASTETEEH at any drug counter.

Warriors Lose Despite Rally

Reserve Cagers Make Difference

A last half surge by Madison Mills' Warriors was as spectacular a performance as has been staged on the Madison Mills floor in years, but time ran out on them while they were still 10 points short of victory and they lost to the boys from South Solon by a score of 57 to 48.

The Madison Mills Varsity cagers could not get going and Coach Tolman Mills sent in smaller and faster boys from the Reserve squad to spice up the game—and from then on it was a different story.

At the end of the first half the Warriors were trailing 26 and at the half they were still far behind, 33-14. The situation looked hopeless to the Warrior fans.

But back from the intermission with some changes in strategy and in the lineup, the Warriors started racing all over the place. They shifted from a zone to a man-to-man defense to throttle the South Solon offense and at the same time stepped up their own attack.

In the last analysis, the South Solon outfit won the game from the free throw line. Each team connected for 16 field goals, but the visitors cashed in on 25 of their 39 charity tosses while the Warriors hit on 16 of their 36.

It was the seventh loss in nine games for the Warriors.

The Madison Mills Reserve, who have lost only two of their nine games, swamped the South Solon boys, 49 to 18, in the preliminary. Their losses were to the Reserves at Jeffersonville and New Holland.

On the Madison Mills Reserve team, and their scores, were: DeLay 2, Clark 3, Dailey 4, Williams 2, Ford 3, Havens 2, McClary 19, Belt 10, King, Rowland and Conley. The Madison Mills Juniors last week beat the Jeffersonville Tiger Cubs, 52 to 13.

Hopalong Granted Special License

COLUMBUS (AP)—Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, Ohio State's All-America halfback, has been issued a special 1956 Ohio car license: "H40C."

The initials, of course, are his own. The number is the same one he wore on the back of his jersey during his gridiron career.

Bevo Francis Still Rated Top Player

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Bevo Francis, who had the basketball world buzzing when he played for little Rio Grande College in Ohio, is still scoring points at a pretty good clip, and his coach says he's a better player.

Francis is averaging 23.4 points with the Boston Whirlwinds, who are touring the country with the Harlem Globetrotters, the Philadelphia Sphas and the Washington, D. C., Generals.

His current average is nowhere near the 50.01 points he averaged at Rio Grande in the 1952-53 and 1953-54 seasons, but as Boston Coach Sid Goldberg said in Salt Lake City yesterday:

"His competition against the play for boys is much stiffer than at Rio Grande, where he played against many junior college teams. And his whirlwind average has been built up during a back-breaking schedule of more than 300 games in the past two years."

"Bevo was clumsy in college. His 6-9 height and tremendous shooting eye enabled him to score a lot of points, but he was a mediocre defensive player and he lacked floor finesse."

"Now, in addition to being the team's top scorer, he also leads in rebounds."

Bevo, who is 23, is willing to learn. He said:

"I plan to play basketball for a living for several years. And if I want to stay in the game I've got to know everything there is about it."

Liquor Sales Up

COLUMBUS (AP)—Sales of $11,426,625 were registered in both retail and wholesale categories by the state liquor department for the week ended Dec. 24. In the corresponding week in 1954, sales totaled $9,133,889.

Mt. Sterling Dumps Bulldogs

New Holland Cagers Edged Out, 47-45

Mt. Sterling took advantage of New Holland's second-period lapse Tuesday night to grab a lead that the Bulldogs never did manage to overcome, despite a game second-half fight.

Final score put the Mt. Sterling boys on top by a slim 47-45 margin.

Mt. Sterling, playing on its home court, took off to a 2-point lead at the end of the first period. By the end of the second period, they had pushed ahead to a 30-18 advantage.

New Holland outscored Mt. Sterling throughout the second half, scoring five points in the last three minutes despite Mt. Sterling's stall tactics. With 15 seconds to go, the Bulldogs got the ball away from the Mt. Sterling boys, but couldn't score the vital tying bucket.

Glen Large led the way for New Holland with 18 points. Mt. Sterling's Phillips was high for the winners with 16.

The defeat, New Holland's third in a row, dropped the Pickaway County team's won-and-lost record to six and six.

The Bulldogs reserves, however, stretched their string of wins to 11 straight as they downed the Mt. Sterling reserves, 32-21.

John Lininger was top scorer for the winners with 16. Others in the game were Jones (8), Dunkle (4), Speakman (3) and Yeoman and Free.

Satterfield Due To Test Holman

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Satterfield, one of boxing's most lethal punchers, aims for his 31st knockout victory tonight against another slugging heavyweight, Johnny Holman.

Satterfield, 32, will be spotting from 15 to 20 pounds the nationally televised 10 rounder at 10 p. m. EST. But Belting Bob twice clobbered Holman in 1954 and also has taken care of such other big boys as Nino Valdes and Bob Baker in compiling a 40-19-3 record.

Although Satterfield apparently can flatten any man he can hit, he has a knockout allergy himself. He has seen stars 11 times.

cal boxing managers' guilds. Its membership includes managers of virtually all boxers participating in major bouts in this country.

Charges listed in the indictment included:

Boycotting of boxing shows when fighters managed by non-guild members were involved; boycotting of shows not approved by the International Boxing Guild or its affiliates; fixing minimum prices at which they would allow their fighters to appear in televised bouts; boycotting and otherwise seeking to prevent televised studio boxing shows.

The trial will be held here, but no date has been set.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two boxing guilds and three of their officers were under indictment today, charged with boycotting and otherwise violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

One of the defendants named in the indictment, returned yesterday by a federal grand jury here, says his group did not boycott anyone and worked for the good of fighters.

The denial was made by Albert W. Del Monte of Cleveland, president of the Boxing Guild of Ohio.

Named with Del Monte and the Ohio Guild in the seven-page indictment were the International Boxing Guild of New York City, Charles Johnston of New York, general president of the IBG, and William Daly of Englewood, N.J., IBG general treasurer.

The IBG is an association of Jo-

Auction - Sheriff's Sale In Partition

305.10 Acre Farm Of The Late
Herbert F. Smith

On Saturday, January 14, 1956 at 10 A. M. the Sheriff will sell the following real estate, on the premises, at public auction: A 305.10 acre farm including two large, fully equipped barns, chicken house, two double and one single corn crib, of 36 and 48 foot lengths; one 60'x36' farrowing house; cement silo with estimated 45 ton capacity; good substantial 8 room house with cellar cistern and well water telephone and wired for 220 electricity, with smoke house adjoining; drilled well at one barn and water piped to farrowing house; electricity to all buildings. Farm has excellent fencing and drainage. All buildings are in top notch state of repair and newly painted. Land is in excellent state of fertility.

This Is The Top Producer Of The Herbert F. Smith Farms!

Sale conducted on the premises which are located on the south side of the Gravel Pit Road, near its intersection with the Selma-Jamestown Road, about nine miles North of Jamestown, and six miles East of Cedarville.

Premises appraised at $84,700.00 and must sell for not less than two-thirds thereof. Ten percent deposit required on day of sale and balance in cash on delivery of deed to the purchaser and confirmation of said Court.

Immediate possession will be given to purchaser on closing subject to the removal of present crops by the estate.

Estate will pay all taxes and assessments for the tax year 1955.

Premises may be inspected on appointment by contacting the auctioneer or attorneys herein.

4-H Enrollment Increase Pushed

Council May Show Films In Schools

Discussion on methods of increasing enrollment in 4-H clubs was the main order of business at a meeting of ten members of the 4-H Council, held at the Farm Bureau auditorium.

Suggestions included increasing the number of advisors and showing of films dealing with 4-H work in schools.

Eleven persons were chosen to attend the area 4-H advisors council training meeting to be held at the Washington Hotel on Jan. 17.

Selected were Mrs. Jesse Crago, Mrs. Grove Davis, Carl Wilt, Willard Bonham, Mrs. Lloyd Moberly, Frank Alexander, Mrs. Mae Page, Mrs. Joe Loudner, Mrs. Bille Wilson, Mrs. Kenneth Horney and Mrs. Sheldon Grubb.

The chairman for the grooming clinic to be held March 23 is Mrs. William Clarke.

The chairman for the clinic on fitting and showing livestock to be held for advisors in the spring, is Carl Wilt.

Mrs. Janice Creamer was elected to investigate purchasing 4-H welcome signs for all highways leading into and out of Fayette County.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. Jesse Crago, Mrs. Grove Davis, Carl Wilt, Willard Bonham, Mrs. Archie McCullough, Miss Louise Ritter, Mrs. Richard Craig, Mrs. Janice Creamer, Mrs. Joe Loudner, Mrs. Ralph Davidson and Mrs. Mitylene Finken, home demonstration agent.

Former Resident Is Heart Victim

Word has been received here of the death of Roy Brewer, 53, formerly of Washington C. H., which occurred Monday while he was at work in his dry cleaning plant in Wilmington.

Death, it was stated, was due to a heart attack.

He was formerly employed at the Coffman Stair Co. plant here, and had many friends in Washington C. H.

Surviving are his widow, and a daughter, Karen Sue.

Funeral services are to be held Thursday at 2 P. M. at the Fisher Funeral Home in Wilmington and burial will be at Wilmington.

Final Rites Held For Elgar Knisley

Final rites for Elgar Knisley, 47, who died Saturday night of heart failure, were held 2 P. M. Tuesday at the New Holland Methodist Church with Rev. Glenn Robinson conducting services.

Rev. Robinson offered prayer, read from the Scriptures, read an obituary and gave a short sermon. A hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross," was sung by Mrs. Herbert ward in education, they soon drop out. We only have one or two graduates at Hillsboro High School each year. And there are 700 Negroes in town."

Hillsboro has a population of 5,100.

Its junior and senior high school classes have been integrated racially for many years. The board of education says it will abandon Lincoln School as soon as a construction program is completed this year or next.

But five Negro mothers did not want to wait for the completion of the building program. They wanted their children to get what they see as the advantages of integrated education right away.

So, with the help of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, they started a suit in the United States District Court in Cincinnati.

Their action was based on a Supreme Court ruling of May 17, 1954, that racial segregation in public schools was unconstitutional.

John H. Druffel, U. S. District Judge in Cincinnati, heard evidence in the segregation dispute and on Jan. 28, 1955, ruled against granting the injunction the mothers sought.

Druffel said the Hillsboro Board of Education is "officially on record as favoring integration" and that an injunction would seriously disrupt the existing school system.

The mothers took their case to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals. The appeals court, by a 2-1 majority, overruled Druffel.

It directed him to prepare an order which would end all segregation in the Hillsboro School system by next September. It also would permit the immediate enrollment of Negro children not now attending classes.

But Druffel, in an unusual action, said he would not follow the orders of the high court unless the school board was able to comply with the edict.

Then he called for a meeting with the Hillsboro School Board today in his office in Cincinnati to discuss the matter. The meeting will be secret.

Passes School Bus And Faces Charges

Lewis Taylor, Shelbyville, Ky., was picked up by Deputy Sheriff Robert McArthur on Route 35 for passing a school bus while it was unloading children.

He was to plead in municipal court, Wednesday.

Wayne Emerson Wilson, route 2, was cited for turning in North Street at a school sign in the street where no turn was permitted at the time.

For having a defective muffler on his car, Keith W. Gaskow drew $5 and costs in municipal court.

First National Bank Promotions Announced

Robert Olinger

Albert R. Bryant

Robert W. Tice

The same board of directors of the First National Bank here was reelected by the stockholders at Tuesday afternoon's annual meeting, but some changes were made among the executive and administrative officials of the bank.

J. Roush Burton was reelected president of the bank and Harry Silcott the chairman of the board by the directors when they held their organization meeting immediately following their election.

The directors promoted Albert R. Bryant to vice president from vice president and cashier; Robert Olinger to cashier from assistant cashier and Robert W. Tice to assistant cashier from loan teller. J. William Wallace was re-appointed assistant cashier.

Re-elected to the board of directors were Burton, William M. Campbell, president of the Fayette Canning Co.; Stanley M. Hagerty, president of The P. Hagerty Shoe Co.; Lowell M. Hayes, Downtown Drug Store proprietor; Willard H. Perrill, farmer; Silcott, farmer, and Bryant, vice president.

IN ANNOUNCING the officer promotions, said Bryant has been with the bank since 1935. He was named assistant cashier in 1939, cashier in 1947 and vice president and cashier in 1948.

Olinger, the president said, started his banking career with the First National in 1936 and prior to entering the army in 1940 had advanced through the various departments of the bank to the position of teller. He served as a paratrooper with the famous 101st Air Borne Division until September 1945 when he returned to his former bank position. He was named assistant cashier in 1947.

Tice has been with the bank since 1948 and has been trained in the various departments of the bank.

He has been loan teller since 1951. Tice is a native of Parkersburg, W. Va., and is a graduate of Belpre High School. He served six years with the U. S. Navy, from which he was discharged a few months prior to locating in Washington C. H. in 1948. He is a member of the Church of Christ and a member and past-secretary of Junior Chamber of Commerce. At present, he is making a further study of banking subjects in the evening classes of the American Institute of Banking in Columbus. He has also been active in Scout work.

BURTON, in his annual report to shareholders, stated that 1955 had been "a most active one," for the bank and that there had been a steady increase in the volume of business handled during the year. He stated that the past year had been "a most satisfactory one" and that additional facilities had been added "to further increase the convenience and service to all customers."

He and the other officers expressed their "appreciation for the fine cooperation and support of the entire community" and thanked the shareholders, directors and employees for their loyalty and constructive work during the year. He stated that the entire staff of the bank are "looking forward to the new year and to new opportunities for service in our community."

The car struck the Diesel engine of the National Limited, was hurled off the right of way and over a ditch to high ground near the track.

Mrs. Barker was killed outright and Barker sustained multiple fractures and other injuries which caused his death while enroute to a Columbus hospital two hours after the accident.

The whistle of the train had been sounded, trainmen reported.

Edwin D. Morgan Dies In Reesville

Edwin D. Morgan, 87, died at his home in Reesville 9:30 P. M. Tuesday after three months of serious illness. He had been in ill health for the past year.

Born in Wellesville, he lived in Reesville all his life. An artist in his early life, he later became a farmer. He was a member of the Christian Science Mother Church in Boston.

Survivors include two sisters, Miss Cora Morgan and Miss Flora Morgan, of the same address.

Christian Science services will be held 2 P. M. Friday at the Littleton Funeral Home in Sabina. Burial will be in the Sabina Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after noon Thursday.
